Data Sought on Eight Points

Bid JFK Clarify Accord on Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican leaders asked President Kennedy today to explain whether the proposed Cuban agreement means Soviet jet bombers and military men will remain in Cuba.

And, said Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Rep. Bob Wilson of California, the President also should "clarify for the American people" whether his agreement with Soviet Premier Khrushchev cancels "an invasion which already had been planned, as reported in some newspapers, and which could have eliminated communism completely from Cuba."

Seen Vital to Security

Goldwater, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, and Wilson, chairman of the GOP House Campaign Committee, raised eight points in connection with the proposed agreement.

"Since Mr. Kennedy canceled his Thursday news conference—eliminating the possibility of the press asking some of these troublesome questions—we believe it vital to the security of the country that they be asked and answered at once," Goldwater and Wilson said in a joint statement.

The eight points the two Republicans said Kennedy should clarify are these:

"(1) Does the no-invasion pledge constitute an abandonment of Cuba to the Communists and the perpetuation of a Red base for espionage, sabotage and propaganda incursions throughout the rest of Latin America?

"(2) Does the agreement supersede the Organization of American States accord reached at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last January, which urges member states to take whatever steps are necessary, including force, to repel subversion of their countries?

"(3) Does this assurance to Khrushchev mean that we have junked the Monroe Doctrine?

Quiz on Refugees

"(4) Are the Cubans who fled to this country from Castro's terrorism and who so long have lived in the hope of eventually liberating their homeland to be abandoned?

"(5) Did the agreement with Khrushchev force a cancellation

No False Alarms; Local, Rural Damage Not Bad

Police logs on Halloween mischief indicated it hadn't gone extensively destructive beyond the rash of window soaping and door bell ringing in the area, but some reports noted scattered instances of damaging mischief, and an item or city record was the lack of a single false fire alarm.

Rain shortened the annual Kingston parade from Academy Green to the Municipal Auditorium led by the Red Devils Corps of Joyce-Schirick Post VFW, but it failed to dampen the spirits of the small fry who marched down Broadway to add zest to the Recreation Department's auditorium program.

Scattered Instances

A city teenager was charged with possession of fireworks, but the sheriff's office, local and state police were notified of only scattered instances of damaging misconduct.

Reports from a few areas in the city and county indicated

Workshop on Urban Renewal Slated by Mayor Nov. 14th

Mayor John J. Schwenk today reported arranging for a Nov. 14 "workshop meeting" in the George Washington School for discussion of urban renewal and the gauging of public reaction to the downtown project.

Copies of a letter announcing the session have been mailed to members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, Common Council, Planning Board, heads of city departments, other groups and individuals, announcing the meeting due to start at 7:30 p. m. and at which Lester Eisner, of the Housing and Home Finance Administration, who is urban renewal administrator in New York State and the New England States, will be key speaker.

Would Know Their Wishes

"With Kingston's downtown urban renewal project moving towards completion of its survey and planning stage, and the preliminary planning now ready for discussion," the mayor wrote, "it is vitally important that the reaction of the people be brought to bear on the various segments of the plan, and that their wishes be reflected in the final project proposal.

"This person-to-person communication and exchange of ideas with the public can only be accomplished by the participation of informed governmental and civic leaders such as you.

"Therefore, the city's urban renewal organization has arranged for a comprehensive workshop meeting, which will bring the foremost experts in the field to Kingston to provide you with specific information concerning many phases and problems of our urban renewal program."

To Hear Reports

After Eisner's talk here Nov. 14, he said, members of various citizens urban renewal committees will attend seven workshops headed by key officials of the Small Business Administration, Housing and Home Finance Administration, Federal Housing Administration, State Division of Housing, State Department of Commerce, and urban renewal staff executives from two New England cities, who have had successful experience with extensive urban renewal projects.

"It would be appreciated," the mayor wrote, if all sub-committee members would speak to as many people as possible" before the workshop meeting, "to determine what questions are uppermost in the minds of the

Wilson to Ask Road Under BA Direction

Will Handle Legislation for Highland Approach Change, Loan of $1,300,000

Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson has announced that he will introduce legislation in the State Legislature in January which will give the New York State Bridge Authority jurisdiction and ownership of the west shore approach road to the Mid-Hudson Bridge now controlled by the State Department of Public Works.

Plans for reconstruction of the Highland approach road call for increasing the number of lanes from three to four with a dividing mall and relocation of toll booths from the Poughkepsie side of the span to the Highland side. The number of toll booths will be increased to six and a toll plaza will be installed in the reconstructed approach road.

Could Start Early

Wilson's legislation will also provide for a State loan of approximately $1,300,000 to the Bridge Authority to be repaid to the State in accordance with a repayment agreement. This will enable the Authority to begin early reconstruction of the approach road if the necessary legislation is passed.

The Assemblyman's announcement followed several meetings held with officials of the Department of Public Works and the State Bridge Authority. Transfer of ownership of the one-mile approach road, a segment of Route 44-55, which extends from the Bridge to the 9W Traffic Circle, is necessary in order to carry out the program.

Preparing Plan Now

At a recent meeting held in the Poughkeepsie office of District Engineer M. N. Sinacori, Assemblyman Wilson was advised that the Department of Public Works is preparing design plans for the approach road. At another meeting held in the office of Edward J. Burns, administrative officer of the State Bridge Authority, Wilson was also advised that the Authority welcomes his early action to introduce the necessary legislation which will eventually alleviate traffic congestion on the west shore approach road.

The Assemblyman indicated that State Senator E. Ogden Bush will introduce companion legislation in the State Senate.

Accompanying Assemblyman Wilson at the various meetings were Bernhardt S. Kramer, local representative of Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, and Joseph Martorana, supervisor of the Town of Plattekill.

Earlier this year Supervisor Martorana offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors calling for the repair, improvement and construction of Route 44-55 starting from the western end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge. In reply to this resolution J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works, indicated that the west shore approach road, a federal and state part of 44-55, should be reconstructed.

Rush Aid To Front In India

Arms Airlift Is Due by Saturday

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India hurried more reinforcements to the front today and informants predicted the first airlift of American arms would arrive Saturday to help Prime Minister Nehru's government fight off Chinese Communist invaders.

The American equipment—mostly mountain artillery—is being flown from Turkey.

Nehru Is Grateful

Turkey agreed to release the arms being provided by the United States after Nehru appealed to President Kennedy for military aid.

Three days after Nehru asked for American weapons, the Indian government issued its first direct acknowledgement of the coming arms assistance.

"We are grateful for the U.S. government's sympathy and support and their offer to help us in the procurement of supplies required for our defense efforts," a spokesman said.

Terms on which the American arms are being supplied have yet to be arranged. The same goes for weapons sent by Britain and coming from Canada.

Nehru is personally handling these arrangements as well as overseeing the battlefront.

See Lull Only Temporary

A lull has set in along the Himalayan frontier but an official spokesman reported Red Chinese mortar fire at Indian patrols around Jang, a village five miles east of the monastery town of Towang captured last week by the Communists.

Indian artillery fire had been reported in this area earlier but there was no artillery reply to the Red Chinese bombardment today. The Communist gunfire dealt no casualties among Indians at Jang, where they are building up for a possible battle on the nearby 13,940-foot-high Se Pass.

A lull in the shooting along the frontier was believed only temporary.

Both sides were preparing for a new round of fighting along the

A Look Backstage in Cuban Crisis

Earth Scars in Photo Start Action by U. S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here is the behind-the-scenes story of the Cuban crisis. Relman Morin, Associated Press special correspondent and twice a Pulitzer prize winner, provides a fascinating look at what took place backstage in Washington during "the days that shook the world." In this first of a five-part series, he relates what signaled the start of the two awesome weeks of decision making.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shortly after 7 o'clock on the night of Monday, Oct. 15, a general of intelligence picked up the "hot line," a security telephone in the Pentagon, and put through an urgent call.

He said he had "seen something." His voice was taut.

This call, although nobody realized it then, was to unleash a swift and fearful train of events, and raise the spectre of nuclear war. The climax would come in another telephone call to President Kennedy, early last Sunday.

Days That Shook World

In between were the days that shook the world.

It was Gen. Joseph Carroll, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, who made that telephone call Oct. 15. He told Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric he had seen something disquieting in a new set of photographs of Cuba. A reconnaissance mission had flown over the island on the previous day, Sunday.

Detect Scars on Earth

Analyzing the pictures, experts detected some scars in the earth, along with evidence of construction work.

Minutes after Carroll's terse report, a military staff car raced down the curving ramp of the Pentagon, and headed across Washington to Gilpatric's home. It carried two experts in photo analysis.

They did not take the pictures with them. But they described the scars and other details of the Cuban terrain, not previously seen.

"Work on them some more and be ready to brief the boss (Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara) and the rest of us at 7:30 in the morning," Gilpatric told them.

Experts Work All Night

The experts worked all night.

Gilpatric went to a dinner at the home of Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

By coincidence, Taylor's guests included most of the men who later participated in the decision-making conferences leading to the "quarantine" of Cuba—members of the executive committee of the National Security Council, and authorities from the Defense and State departments.

Gilpatric told them about the photographs.

At 7:30 Tuesday morning, these same men met at the Pentagon with McNamara. The photo analysts reported their findings. The evidence of the construction of actual Soviet missile-launching sites still was not regarded as conclusive.

Redouble Reconnissance

McNamara did consider it sufficiently "hard," and disquieting, to call the White House. About an hour later, around 9 a.m., the information was in the President's hands.

Later that day, Kennedy examined the photographs himself.

His first step was to order a redoubling of reconnaissance over the suspicious points in Cuba.

Missile Bases Going Up

Soon, the evidence became incontrovertible. Soviet missile bases were rapidly rising near the cities of Guanajay, Remedios, San Cristobal and Sagua La Grande. There were some eight or 10 bases with about four launchers at each base.

Soviet light bombers, the Ilyushin 28, also were marshalling on the island.

In his report to the nation of Oct. 22, Kennedy called this "the Soviet military buildup" on Cuba.

Kennedy spoke of "this urgent transformation of Cuba into an important strategic base by the presence of these large, long-range and clearly offensive weapons." He then announced the "quarantine" on further shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba and warned:

"And these actions may be only the beginning."

Like 'Nightmare'

The week that preceded this decision is pretty much of a blur to men who participated in it. One describes it as a "nightmare." They cannot now remember clearly where they were or what they did on a given day.

They can provide only a sketchy picture of Kennedy during this high-energy, high-tension week—icy. It is his typical reaction when he is under pressure.

As additional evidence of the threat from Cuba rapidly mounted, they were briefed at least once a day, sometimes twice. Between briefings, they gathered in the State Department, examining the terrible potentialities, matching ideas on actions to recommend to the President.

The meetings often went on until late at night. Through the week of Oct. 21-27, McNamara slept in his office. Kennedy did not leave the White House until last Sunday morning when he went to church.

Biggest Surprises

Two things, they say, surprised them most in this period—the speed of the Soviet work on the bases, and the fact that Soviet Premier Khrushchev "would do anything so dangerous."

One said it appeared that "only four or five days" elapsed between the detection of the first scars in the earth and the rise of the medium-range missile sites.

As for Khrushchev's motive in attempting to supplement the armed might of the Soviet Union with a base in the Western Hemisphere, they are only theories.

The prevailing one is, "if we didn't do anything about Cuba, we

The Dutchess County Board of Elections received 1175 applications for absentee ballots.

Is Annoyed By Soviet Agreement

Thant to Resume Diplomatic Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Fidel Castro's annoyance over being bypassed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev caused the Cuban leader to reject U.N. inspection of Soviet missile removal, a high U.N. source said today.

The source said that Castro was aggrieved because Khrushchev had not consulted him before agreeing with President Kennedy that U.N. inspectors could be sent to Cuba to verify the dismantling of Soviet missiles.

Outright Rejection First

These disclosures came as Acting Secretary-General U Thant plunged into a new series of diplomatic talks in an effort to get the Cuban peace effort back on the track.

Informed sources said Castro had given him an outright rejection at their first meeting in Havana Tuesday, but had been much more agreeable on Wednesday.

The belief was expressed in high U.N. circles that Castro might accept the U.N. inspection plan after his present mood passes.

Diplomatic informants in Washington said Castro had delivered a bitter tirade in his talks with Thant and accused Khrushchev of having sold him down the river. A spokesman for Thant said this was "completely unfounded." The spokesman also denied Washington reports saying Thant had had a most unpleasant trip to Cuba.

Riad First on Schedule

The secretary-general's first appointment today was with the current president of the Security Council, Mahmoud Riad of the United Arab Republic and with Ghana's council Delegate Alex Quaison-Sackey.

He also had appointments with Cuba's newly appointed U.N. delegate, Carlos Lechuga, who flew back from Havana Wednesday night. Lechuga arranged to present his credentials, but it was possible also that he and Thant would deal with the Cuban situation.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson had an afternoon appointment to see Thant.

Thant said on his return from Havana Wednesday night he had been reliably informed the bases would be dismantled by Friday and the Soviet equipment shipped out of Cuba soon afterward.

Mum on Arrangements

But Thant said nothing about arrangements for U.N. verification of the Soviet withdrawal, the purpose of his trip. This omission, plus the return with him of the military aides he had taken as a nucleus of the inspection group, was taken as evidence Castro would not agree to the foreign inspection.

The United States announced that it was resuming its naval blockade of arms shipments to Cuba at dawn today and that aerial surveillance of the missile sites also was being resumed. Both had been suspended during Thant's

Blockade Could Prod Cuban Leader

Fleet Resumes Quarantine, Air Surveillance Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Navy ships resumed their arms blockade of Cuba at daybreak today and air surveillance was ordered renewed after Fidel Castro evidently refused to agree to U.N. inspection of Soviet missile withdrawals.

Washington officials probably will want to verify with aerial photos a report by U Thant, acting secretary-general, that all Soviet missiles would be taken down by Friday and removed from Cuba soon afterward. Thant said he was reliably informed of this Wednesday in Havana.

The blockade, suspended during two days of evidently fruitless negotiations between Thant and Fidel Castro, was due to go back into force at dawn. Its assignment, as before, is to keep additional offensive weapons out of Cuba.

The White House announced this Wednesday night after President Kennedy had reviewed the situation with his top level National Security Council.

Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, said U.S. photo reconnaissance planes would go back into action "in the absence of effective U.N. arrangements" with Castro for supervising the missile base dismantling promised by the Soviet Union.

Salinger left vague just when surveillance will start again after the two-day break. Apparently this was intended to avoid tipping off Cuban antiaircraft batteries which fired on unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes at the height of the crisis last weekend.

The United States has acknowledged losing one plane over Cuba and Thant said after arriving in New York Wednesday night that the Cuban government, at his request, had agreed to return the

Scranton Claims Victory in Foe's Grand Jury Call

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—William W. Scranton, Republican candidate for governor, claims he scored a major victory when Richardson Dilworth, his Democratic rival, called for a grand jury investigation of Philadelphia city government.

"He is stumbling around senselessly trying to find something to secure votes," Scranton said Wednesday in Philadelphia, where Dilworth was mayor until his resignation this year to enter the gubernatorial race.

"You don't make an investigation of your own administration by yourself," Scranton said, commenting on Dilworth's investigation pledge made Tuesday.

Scranton and his running mate for U.S. senator, Rep. James E. Van Zandt, climaxed two days of intensive campaigning in the Democratic stronghold of Philadelphia. Both headed for Schuylkill county today.

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, joined in ridiculing Dilworth's proposal, calling it an 11th-hour attempt to win votes.

"If there was any sincerity at all in this ex-reformer, he would have asked for such an investigation in 1961 when the scandals first broke," Bloom added in a statement issued in Harrisburg.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 1, 1962

BE PREPARED TO VOTE

Ulster County residents registered to vote this year number 66,384 according to figures released by the Secretary of State. Of this number registered for the 1962 general election to be held Tuesday, November 6, women again outnumber men 33,433 to 32,951.

These registration figures include those of the 20 districts within the corporate limits of the City of Kingston, where there is personal registration, and 81 districts in the county, where there is non-personal registration. There are 12,161 eligible voters in the City of Kingston and 54,223 in the county districts.

With these eligible voters rest the responsibility of selecting candidates to fill the local offices of Member of Assembly, Sheriff and Coroner of Ulster County. These voters also have the duty to help determine the candidates to fill the other offices on the ballot this year. They include Governor, U. S. Senator, Congressman, Attorney General, Comptroller, Associate Judge Court of Appeals and State Senator. Also up for decision this election are two propositions and four amendments to the State Constitution.

These are very important matters and we should make it our personal business to have a voice in their determination. In no other way can the results express the wishes of the people as they are supposed to do and should do.

In this important election, we have a responsibility and there is but one way to discharge it. That is by going to the polls and voting for the candidates and the propositions and amendments.

A further example of the apathy displayed by the electorate is shown in the vote cast each year for the amendments and propositions which appear at the top of the ballot. The percentage of voters who take the time to express an opinion on these questions is so low that a minority determines the fate of these important issues affecting all the people. When citizens fail to vote, they injure the cause of good government.

As election nears, we remind all citizens that the right of voting is one of the greatest privileges of American citizenship. This and all other privileges are wasted on people who do not vote.

Be prepared to vote on amendments and propositions as well as for the candidates in the general election next Tuesday.

MATTER OF CONSUMPTION

Ambassador Stevenson is not the only American who occasionally puts the Soviet Union on an embarrassing spot in the United Nations. The trick was neatly turned not long ago by Mrs. Ronald Tree, U.S. representative on the 109-nation Social Committee of the General Assembly.

Mrs. Tree dissected a Russian charge that the West is to blame for sagging prices of basic commodities on which the economy of some countries depends. She did so by pointing out that although the West does its part by consuming at a high rate, Russian consumption of such commodities is 'way down because state-owned economies boost prices until they are often "fantastically higher" than the world market price. Her argument evoked smiles from some delegates—and silence from the Soviet delegate.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE NEXT STEP

President Kennedy has established three facts:

1. The United States is mighty and ready and will fight if need be;

2. The United States will not trade under a muzzle;

3. The United States seeks peace and will negotiate with anybody who is sincerely desirous of peace.

What comes next?

There is no key in the correspondence between President Kennedy and Nikita Khrushchev to indicate what will happen next except that disarmament questions are left to the NATO powers and the Warsaw powers which could mean prolonged conversations. To me that clue means little more than the United States will not act alone and arbitrarily and will consult with its allies.

What about Castro? Is it possible to permit Fidel Castro to remain a nuisance in the Caribbean? Castro was ignored by both the United States and Soviet Russia. His name was not even mentioned. The United States acted as though Cuba were a possession of Soviet Russia; Khrushchev accepted the role of suzerain. Whether he consulted Castro at any point is not known. Essentially, the Cuban situation remains a Russo-American affair. But Castro is there.

The question arises in everyone's mind why Khrushchev should have reached a decision which includes an element of humiliation. Perhaps the answer can be found in President Kennedy's disinclination to make Cuba an issue for war or peace. We chose Berlin. Khrushchev attempted to divert us from Berlin to Cuba and succeeded in forcing our hand. We established the blockade around Cuba but also exposed our readiness to fight anywhere. We established that the 'soft" period in our history is over. This applies to Berlin as it does to Cuba. Both President Kennedy and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson emphasized the significance of Berlin. What is called "accommodation" is nonsense.

Khrushchev's defeat in Cuba strengthens our position among the NATO powers and gives courage to both West Germany and France concerning Berlin. Just as Mao Tze-tung tested our purpose and strength in the Korean War which we lost, so Khrushchev tested our purpose and strength in Cuba. There we won.

Khrushchev's position was a weak one. Mao Tze-tung's war on India has upset the Communist World. Whereas India is not a satellite of Soviet Russia, it has nevertheless through Krishna Menon, permitted itself to be closely related to Russia so that Nehru's neutralism has become an impediment for a decent settlement of world affairs. Now India is being attacked viciously by Red China and Khrushchev is in serious difficulties.

If he supports his ally, Red China, he must oppose his friends Nehru and Krishna Menon; if he supports India, he violates the union of Communist countries, including the Warsaw Pact. If he remains neutral, it amounts to indecisiveness and a violation of the Warsaw Pact. What will Tito do? What will the East Germans do? Khrushchev's power is based upon decisions but he can make no decision with regard to India.

At such a moment, the United States chooses to expose to the world the Cuban missile build-up and to take warlike measures. It was splendid timing for the United States but very bad for Khrushchev. If he pursued the war with the United States, unless it were settled in a day, Mao Tze-tung would move on Turkestan and Siberia, completing his effort to reach the Chienlung line. From this Khrushchev backed away. The combination of forces was too much. He undoubtedly felt that sound statesmanship required that he live another day.

But there is more to be said. The Revolution has beyond doubt achieved more in 45 years than Lenin or anyone else expected. An atomic war, whatever it did to the United States, would wipe out the fruits of the Revolution. It would throw Russia back to 1917 and its industrial potential would disappear. It is doubtful if the Communist International, now held together by the Warsaw Pact, could survive a massive atomic attack. Surely, Tito would take Albania; Poland and Hungary would be in a state of revolution; East Germany could not contain its population; Red China would go off entirely on its own. Was Cuba worth the test of strength?

A month from now, it will probably be seen that Khrushchev has not lost prestige within Soviet Russia. There the people believe "let you and him fight, but keep the war away from us."

Rapid Loss of Weight May Be Cancer Sign

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have been taking chiropractic treatments for my nerves and ever since I started this treatment I have been losing weight. I lost 15 pounds in the last three months and I was not overweight to start with. What should I do?

A—Although chiropractors have been known to help persons with certain ailments, they are not skilled in the recognition and treatment of all diseases. Because rapid loss of weight is one of the warning signs of cancer, you should have a thorough examination by a physician to determine the reason for this loss. In the case of cancer and many other conditions, effective treatment can be given only if an early diagnosis is made and the most appropriate treatment applied.

Q—About two years ago my first baby was stillborn because it had a small head. Recently I delivered a baby that had water on the brain. It did not live. There is no record of abnormal births in my family or my husband's. If I become pregnant again what are the chances that I will have a normal child?

A—Authorities who have studied this problem say that if a couple have two malformed children the third may be normal but the chance that it will also be malformed are greater than for the average married couple.

Whether you should take this chance is not an easy matter to decide. It is a personal matter and is up to you and your husband. If you decide not to take the chance, you might register with a reputable adoption agency, one recommended by your doctor or your church.

Q—What is the cause of bursitis? Is there any cure for it?

A—A bursa is a sac filled with fluid and attached to a large tendon near a major joint to minimize friction. Bursitis or inflammation of the bursa may result from prolonged strenuous use of the adjacent joint and, if the bursitis becomes chronic, the pain is aggravated by the deposition of calcium.

Removal of the bursal fluid through a needle and injections of hydrocortisone into the bursa may afford relief. Ultrasound has helped some persons. In general, X-ray treatment and open operation are not advised. Even though the region is painful, movement of the joint through the full range several times daily is essential to prevent stiffening.

Q—I had an attack of shingles on the right side of my chest five years ago. Every since, I have had a pain in my right arm—very severe at times. My doctor has given me ACTH, cortisone, salicylates, vitamin B-12, procaine, and other drugs in tablets and in shots but I still have the pain. Is there any other treatment?

A—The few persons who have persistent pain after an attack of shingles usually have a hard time to get relief. When blocking the painful nervous impulses with procaine and the other forms of treatment fail, a surgeon is sometimes called in to cut the involved nerve. The success of this operation depends on correctly locating the offending nerve and severing it completely.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Trying to make foreign policy the major issue in this year's congressional election campaign has been a curious political development.

In view of general approval for President Kennedy's embargo on Communist country shipments of offensive weapons into Cuba, the question now is more academic than political. For the historical records, the interest is in who started the razzmatazz.

Kennedy, in his Harrisburg speech, charged that "during eight years of Republican administration, our foreign policy drifted aimlessly about."

General Eisenhower, who up to that time had a fixed policy of not commenting on current foreign affairs, took up this challenge in his Boston speech with a defense of his own record and a comment on "the dreary foreign record" of the Kennedy administration.

This was quickly followed by a Republican congressional leaders' statement that Kennedy's "tragic irresolution in Cuba" was "the dominant issue of the campaign."

This was a little too much for the general, however. He went back to his former position of refusing to criticize the President on current foreign policy handling, though he left the door open to talk about history.

EARLIER KENNEDY at Indianapolis had criticized Hoosier Sen. Homer Capehart for his original demand for immediate invasion of Cuba, later softened to his demand for an embargo. Now Kennedy has come around to that, completing the cycle and making the question moot.

So both parties are involved in this pretty deeply.

Aside from the Cuba issue, however, and some argument over policy on Laos, which is not now an active campaign issue, there has been no great partisan difference on foreign policy.

The fact is that Kennedy's foreign program got a lot better treatment in Congress than his domestic proposals. The Republicans took the lead in clobbering his pet economic recovery bills. But they cooperated on his foreign affairs measures, amending some but defeating none.

Both the Senate and House American resistance to Communist aggression in Germany and Cuba "by force of arms is necessary." The Cuba resolution passed the Senate 86 to 1 Republican and 384 to 7 Republicans in the House.

The authorization for calling up reserves to support these resolutions passed 343 to 13 in the House, with 11 Republicans and 2 Democrats opposed, 76 to 0 in the Senate.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRADE expansion bill went through Congress by substantial majorities after long, hard battles. The final votes were 298 to 125 in the House, with 80 Republicans for it and 90 opposed. It passed the Senate 78 to 8, with Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and 7 Republicans opposed.

The controversial $100 million United Nations loan bill passed the House 257 to 134, with 66 Republicans for it and 88 opposed. It passed the Senate by voice vote.

The $4.6 billion foreign aid authorization passed the House 221 to 162 and the Senate 52 to 27. The appropriation was cut only $700 million—instead of the $1 billion to $2 billion that its opponents sought—so it was not an overwhelming and insurmountable defeat for the administration.

Other foreign affairs legislation that went through Congress with more difficulty includes the bill setting up a private communications satellite corporation, extension of the international wheat and sugar agreements and the export control act. But the Peace Corps appropriation was nearly doubled to $59 million and the $73 million Philippine War Claims act went through in a breeze.

This record by no means shows there was any partisan political split on foreign policy in the last Congress.

The Perils of Tampering With the News — Are We?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Suppression of military news in time of war or international emergency is defensible. But any deliberate misrepresentation of the news by the government that causes the press to publish untrue or misleading news reports is indefensible in a democracy.

It now has been revealed that during the current Cuban crisis —and as a policy for the future —various officials of the Kennedy administration believe they have a right to deceive the American people as to what is actually going on and to use the press to convey certain impressions to foreign governments. This is unprecedented in American history.

The argument is that "the end justifies the means." But overlooked is the fact that credulity can thus be broken down. This could lead a foreign government to distrust statements of resoluteness issued by the government here and to construe them as sheer bluff. Grave consequences — possibly even war — could, therefore, flow from tactics of misrepresentation.

Two of the principal newspapers of the United States have already protested publicly against any policy of manipulation of the press. They are The New York Times and the Evening Star of Washington, D. C. The Star in an editorial Wednesday said that only those portions of the news about the Cuban blockade were made available by the Defense Department which its "omniscient manipulation of public opinion decided, in their infinite wisdom, would best serve to create the 'image' of this country's activities they wished to manufacture and place before our people and the world."

'The World We Live In'

The Star in its news columns the previous day had quoted Arthur Sylvester, the Assistant Secretary of Defense in charge of press relations, as having said:

"I can't think of a comparable situation, but in the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justify the methods we used."

In its editorial comment, the Star said:

"Weigh those words. Their meaning is truly sinister. In an Administration that is becoming quite notable in its efforts toward achieving managed control of the news, Mr. Sylvester may have overlooked one likely result of 'the methods we used.' This result is that Mr. Sylvester and his superiors, from this time on, are suspect. They have, in our opinion, recklessly and thoughtlessly forfeited a confidence that in this country has been the rules, rather than the exception. What they say from now on, as arbitrarily established sources of public information, may be the truth. But that truth will be accepted with a grain of salt. . . .

"One may hope that having tasted the fruits of a use of power more readily identified with the Soviet Union, with Hitler, Mussolini and a long string of new if lesser dictators than with our own country, those in high places will now realize that this fruit is poison and discard it before an antidote becomes necessary."

The New York Times in its editorial—also on Wednesday—said that censorship in time of crisis is understandable and necessary and that the press should exercise self-restraint. The Times, however, then added this warning:

"But to attempt to manage the news so that a free press should speak — in Sylvester's words — in 'one voice to your adversary' could be far more dangerous to the cause of freedom than the free play of dissent, than the fullest possible publication of the facts."

The Times also declared that "a Democratic government cannot work if news of and about the government is long suppressed or managed or manipulated or controlled."

What Happened?

Interest now centers in what really did happen between Monday, Oct. 15, when 400 editors from all parts of the country were briefed and told that no invasion or blockade was contemplated, and Saturday, Oct. 20, when President Kennedy made his decision to blockade and, if necessary, to invade Cuba to get rid of the Soviet missile bases.

The high officials of the Department of State who conducted the briefing mid-day on Monday, Oct. 15, must have known that the air flights over Cuba were being conducted and that available evidence strongly pointed toward the existence of offensive missile power in Cuba. But although confirmation came to the Defense Department Monday night and to the White House early Tuesday morning, no steps were taken in the subsequent six days to inform the press that it had been misled. Was this intentional or unintentional?

When a change in strategy was announced by the President on Monday evening, Oct. 22, there was no explanation of why, during the preceding days of the week, the President had gone out campaigning even after he had received on Oct. 16 the official photographs showing that the bases could become operational and that American cities were in danger of being bombed.

The country has been led to believe that in a nuclear age a President should be able to order retaliatory measures in a few minutes or hours the same day. Why was the risk taken on the missile bases in Cuba? How much of what was gven out to the press was sham and how much was real? Access to all the facts should be given now lest newsmen in the future here and abroad tend to disbelieve official briefings as merely a contrived way of creating a certain "image" for political purposes—national or international.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

There was made mention of the Boice family in this column several times. The information came from Robert E. Haines. Hewitt Boice was first cousin to his maternal great-grandfather, Horace Boice. The A. T. Clearwater History of Ulster County has a writeup on Hewitt Boice, which reads in part, "Hewitt Boice, prominent among the notable self-made men of Ulster County, coming of a pioneer family . . ."

Most of these men started from scratch with the raw materials they found in Kingston and Ulster County and produced materials used in the building of this section and of many buildings and sidewalks of other cities like New York. Hewitt Boice was called "the Blue Stone King" according to the History of the Valley of the Hudson, River of Destiny, Vol. III, p. 188-191.

Hewitt Boice received his education in the public schools and early in life went into the bluestone industry. Besides which with his father and his brother, Peter, he carried on a tannery, lumber and bluestone business at Samsonville, under the name of William V. N. Boice and Sons. In the late 1880's they had a frontage of some 300 feet on East Strand in Rondout also in the bluestone business, and the family had a stone yard at Higginsville, and along the line of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad. Mr. Boice became one of the largest bluestone dealers in the country.

In 1901 he sold his entire plant to the late Samuel D. Coykendal. Today there are very few who know how to handle one piece of bluestone without breaking it. I have watched men with modern equipment and trucks unable to move, turn over, walk or in anyway handle a ordinary size slab of bluestone sidewalk. A lost art.

I remember hearing two gentlemen, who some 10 years ago were elderly, and were experts at laying and repairing bluestone sidewalks. I do not know their names, but I have seen some of their work, and they had some secret of making a cement between the bluestone that stayed as hard as the bluestone. This too I am afraid is a lost art. Hard work, a big appetite is not for this generation. They not only needed good muscles, but also original ideas and proven methods with the simple material they had at hand to handle bluestone. Today a sledge hammer to break it, or an iron ball to throw down a church steeple, as I saw it done and with iron hooks on Abeel Street near the bridge was to me tragic. I spoke of that church many times, because the windows and construction was not alone of the old school, but a work of art. Who could lift a stone and throw it at one of those artistic windows until every little one was broken, was in my estimation, someone who had no talent whatsoever to create anything but vandalism. Over a period of several years, every glass in that church was broken, little by little.

I do not care of what religious faith a house of worship maybe, it should not be damaged by any one else. It is through cathedrals in Europe that we have today some of our famous paintings and leaded windows by artists whose work is priceless. Those artists were hired and paid by religious orders. Yet if those same windows were here on the corner of Abeel and Wurts Street, they would, no doubt, have received the same treatment as that now destroyed church received. Those rose windows should have been saved and used elsewhere.

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The complexities and uncertainties involved in the major issues in state government are the chief reasons they have been generally ignored in the current election campaign.

Voters have been treated to sidewalk tours, marathon handshaking, blatant appeals to racial, religious and other minorities, blintz-and-hot dog eating, sweeping generalities and an occasional flurry of name-calling.

But the record is almost bare of any genuine discussion of public welfare, the future of the state budget and how it will be financed, or legislative reapportionment.

Some Difficulty

These are difficult problems, difficult to explain and difficult to understand. They do not lend themselves easily to the cliches and broad, sweeping boasts, accusations, promises or warnings with which most election issues are handled.

The future of state spending involves a delicate balance between spending pressures and the amount that can be raised in taxes without risking political consequences.

The spending pressures come from different sources and with varying degrees of intensity. For example, demands of localities for more state aid to education led to the creation of the Diefendorf Committee and a record increase in aid.

No Clear Guide

Demands of cities for an increase in state aid based on population were not as politically potent, and that matter has been referred to another study committee.

There is no clear-cut guide to what the Legislature will do in future years and, consequently, nobody really knows what the state's long-range tax needs will be.

But you don't dare talk like that from a political platform. Office-seekers tend to feel voters expect them to predict the future with authority.

On Public Welfare

The question of public welfare involves religious, financial, political and human factors. There are strong feelings that welfare rules are both too lax and too stringent.

You cannot discuss them easily while shaking hands or eating hot dogs.

Parties in the state campaign have not made promises or announced plans for major changes in the controversial field of public welfare.

Republicans turned the matter over to a study committee that will report after the election. Democrats raised no objections to this course.

Would Rather Not

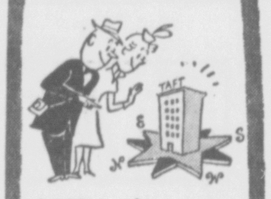

While "let's look at the record" has become a stock phrase of political campaigning, office-seekers and their partisans frequently would rather not.

For example, two of the major programs Gov. Rockefeller praises as the fruit of "partnership government" by a GOP administration and Legislature are scholar-incentive and his housing program. But each of these was passed only because of Democratic support.

New York Democrats are calling for election of Democratic congressmen to help President Kennedy win approval of his key programs, such as medicare. When the medicare bill was defeated in the Democratic-controlled Senate, New York's two senators, both Republicans, voted for it but defections among Democrats led to its defeat.

School Board Delegates Attend State Conference

Saugerties Central School Board members have returned from Syracuse where they attended the 43rd annual convention of the New York State School Boards Association October 21-23.

Those who attended from the local board were Robert Herb, Jack O. Pakanen, Henry Breitenbach and Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools.

Robert Herb, president of the board, was official delegate at the business session which was held on the Monday afternoon of the convention.

Nearly 4,000 school board members and other school officials made this the largest convention of its kind in the nation. Representatives of nearly 150 companies displaying educational exhibits at the convention rate this state convention on a par with national educational conventions.

Resolutions acted upon by the delegates at the annual business meeting help to determine the general policies of the association as well as its 1963 legislative program.

Says Morgenthau Almost Ignores Upper State Areas

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP) — Robert M. Morgenthau, the Democratic candidate for governor, "has almost completely ignored Upstate New York" in his campaign against Republican Gov. Rockefeller, the Senate majority leader contends.

Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, a Buffalo Republican, described Morgenthau as "the phantom pretender" and said the Democrat had spent six campaign days out of every seven in the New York City metropolitan area.

Mahoney spoke Wednesday night at the annual dinner of the Cortland County Republican Committee.

He charged that the Democratic Party in the state was not a statewide party.

"It has been dominated wholly and ruthlessly," he said, "by a succession of New York City bosses who come to power and maintain their position by catering only to the voters of New York City."

Will Let Her Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "With nine kids, it is difficult to tell what time it is," an Albany County election commissioner said in agreeing that Mrs. Mary E. Maxwell should be allowed to register to vote in next week's election.

Mrs. Maxwell, mother of nine, contended she had arrived at her polling place in plenty of time to register Oct. 13. She said the time was 12 minutes before the 10 p.m. closing. The registrars said it was 10:04 p.m. The Board of Elections decided this week to let her vote.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Word has leaked from the Hollywood studios that, after only two months of widowerhood, Luke McCoy is going to have a new steady girl—a widow with a 6-year-old son.

Ultimately, there may be wedding bells ringing out on "The Real McCoys," but this is highly tentative because television script writers long ago discovered how very flexible is a television widower.

A spot check of network widowers reveals the presence of 10, all playing starring roles. By contrast, there are only three widows, one of them grass. This is in marked contrast to real life in the U.S.A., where widows outnumber widowers four to one.

There are two widowers in "The Real McCoys" (Luke lost his wife when Kathy Nolan, who played the part, resigned in a huff from the cast at the end of last season). There are als "The Rifleman," "The Andy Griffith Show," Jed Clampetts in "Beverly Hillbillies," Judge Garth in "The Virginian," Dr. Bassett in "The 11th Hour," Steve and Bub in "My Three Sons," and Lawrence Preston in "The Defenders."

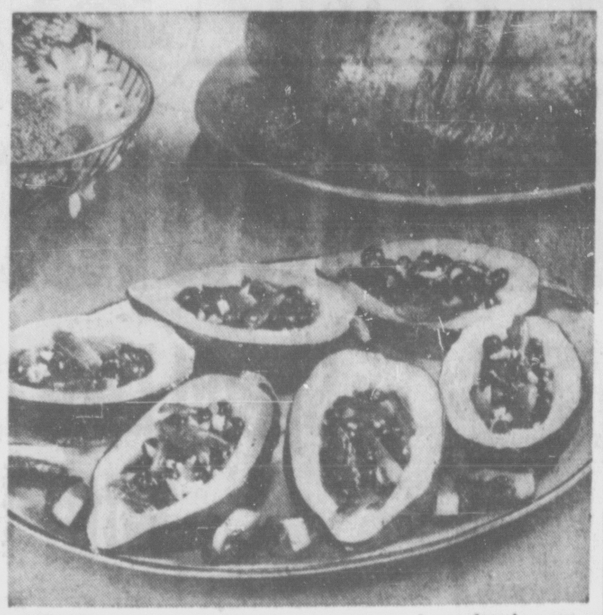

Not all of them are permited romantic interludes, particularly the older gentlemen. But this year there seems to be a trend to provide romantic attachments.

The magic ingredient seems to be missing from this season's "Garry Moore Show," which lacks its old informal charm and easy humor. At the outset, it seemed that maybe we missed Carol Burnett, but she was back and stage center this week. But even her best comic efforts failed to lift the show: They gave her and Durward Kirby an impossible assignment in an unfunny sketch about a kooky woman with a phobia about using her hands. Better it should have been whipped into a psychiatric plot for NBC's "Eleventh Hour." Even the studio audience laughter sounded strained.

Recommended tonight: "Perry Mason," CBS, 8-9 Eastern Standard Time—Stuart Erwin is the guest star; "Mr. Lucifer," ABC, 10-11 Fred Astaire plays the title role in an updating of "Faust," with Elizabeth Montgomery in the feminine lead.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Gala Sectional Recipes Expand Traditional Menu

SWEET dates and almonds, oranges and cranberries are used to fill these acorn squashes for Thanksgiving dinner.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most everyone eats more than he or she should at Thanksgiving dinner. That is the well-honored custom of our country. In fact, it is expected. Gala recipes from different sections of the United States are now frequently used to expand and brighten the traditional festive menu based on the Pilgrims' first Thanksgiving more than 300 years ago. Todays menus often combine the old and the imaginative, and reflect harvests from coast to coast.

Dates from California, also almonds and oranges, combine in this recipe with New England cranberries and squash.

THANGSGIVING DINNER SQUASH
(Makes 8 servings)

1 cup fresh dates
4 acorn (or Danish) squash
Boiling water
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
1 cup fresh cranberries
1 tablespoon slivered orange rind
½ cup roasted diced almonds
Salt
¼ cup melted butter

Cut dates into slivers. Cut squash lengthwise into halves; remove seeds and place cut-side down in a shallow baking pan. Add boiling water to a depth of ¼ inch. Bake in 400 degrees F. (hot) oven 30 minutes. Meanwhile, bring sugar and ½ cup water to a boil. Add cranberries; cover and boil gently for 5 minutes, or until cranberries are cooked. Remove from heat and add dates, orange rind and almonds. Remove squash from oven, turn cut-side up, sprinkle with salt and brush generously with butter. Fill with fruit sauce. Return to oven and bake an additional 15 minutes. Serve hot.

In this stuffed sweet potato recipe, coconut from the Pacific islands is added to more familiar ingredients.

ORANGE STUFFED SWEET POTATOES
(Allow one potato per person)

6 medium (about 2 pounds) sweet potatoes, baked
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup diced oranges
¼ cup shredded coconut
6 teaspoons butter or margarine

Cut off tops from baked sweet potatoes. Scoop out the inside, keeping the shell intact. Mash potatoes with butter or margarine. Add salt, sugar, diced oranges, coconut and lemon rind. Mix well. Spoon into potato shells. Dot each with 1 teaspoon butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated hot oven (450 degrees F.) 20 minutes or until lightly browned over the top. YIELD: 6 servings.

TO BAKE SWEET POTATOES:

Wash sweet potatoes and wipe dry. Bake in a preheated oven 45 to 60 minutes or until potatoes are soft. (If oven is in use at a lower temperature, bake potatoes at that temperature but increase the baking time.)

To Sentence Canadian For Smuggling Beef

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A Canadian, who has pleaded guilty to charges of illegally importing 463,633 pounds of frozen beef into the United States, will be sentenced in U.S. District Court Nov. 13.

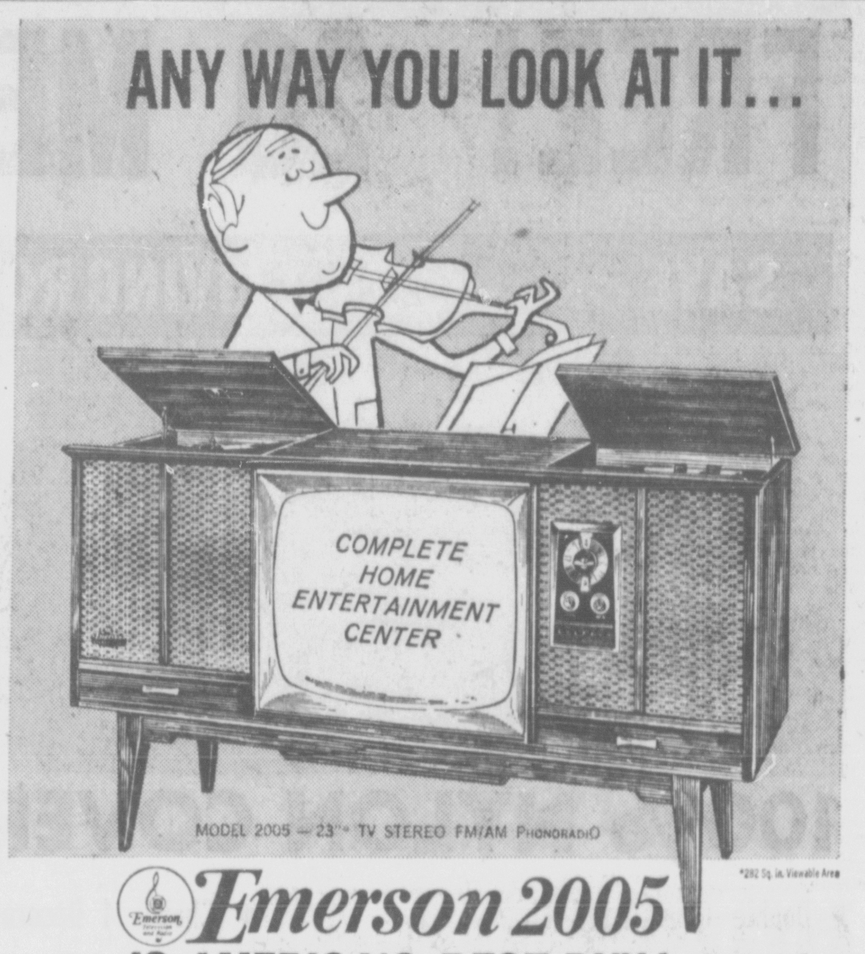

Arthur L. Lorenz, 37, owner of the Lorenz Animal Food Supply Co., of Dunham, Ont., entered a guilty plea Wednesday.

Customs officials charged that 20 times between March 28, 1961 and Nov. 20, 1961, Lorenz trucked the frozen beef from Durham to Allentown, Pa., covering it with horsemeat. They said he declared the beef as horsemeat on which there is no duty. The duty on beef is three cents a pound.

Charged With Murder

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Katy Milhouse Crawford, 34, has been charged with second-degree murder in the fatal knifing of her companion, Sylvester Crawford, 45.

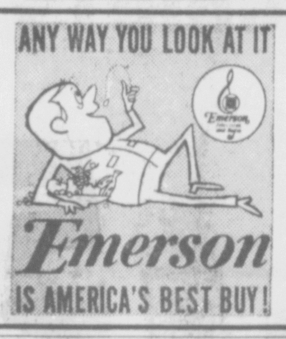

Police said she told them she stabbed Crawford Wednesday night with a pocket-knife after he struck her during an argument over household finances.

Need Production Of Vital Items, Javits Declares

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (AP)—Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, said today that "more production" of essential products is the key to this nation's economic well-being.

In a speech prepared for a luncheon of Long Island business, labor and civic leaders Javits, who is running for reelection, said:

"We need more production, ever more production not of doodads but of products that people really need and want, here and abroad. More of such production will hold back inflation, cut prices for the consumer, increase both the wages of labor and the profits of industry, strengthen our position in world markets, and bring that general economic growth which is essential in the long-running competition with the burgeoning communist world."

To spur the economy, Javits said, there is a current need for "a sizable incentive tax reduction for the lowest and highest income groups and further consideration of accelerated depreciation on new equipment and corporate tax rates for home and foreign business."

These steps, Javits said, "would loose a flood of buying power and investment into our sluggish economic system."

matter of Fact

Water is the single most important nutrient. This is so because of its importance in maintaining the proper water balance which influences our work output and survival time. Humans and animals can live longer and expend more energy without food than water. Men can live only a few days without water, but may survive five or more weeks without food.

Correction Made In Story About Lane on Blockade

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press incorrectly attributed to State Assemblyman Mark Lane, Manhattan Democrat, an address made by another speaker at an Oct. 25 rally sponsored by "the New York Council to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee."

Lane was erroneously quoted as saying "The Cuban quarantine should be in reverse. It is American ships which should be turned back."

A tape recording of the proceedings showed that a speaker who followed Lane said in part:

"I think my government is wrong. I would like to see them turn back our ships in the Caribbean."

Lane in his address said in part:

"It soon will be more difficult to speak on this issue in America. It has been said and will be said more clearly and more loudly and more hysterically that we must all support the President no matter what he decides. I say to you that such an attitude in our working democracy with the decisions of such high importance to be made such an attitude is unworthy of free men. . ."

Lane also urged support for the President and reminded his listeners of the President's statement at his inauguration: "Ask not what America can do for you, ask what you can do for America."

Originally, the word "cattle" meant "goods; property." The word now is commonly used to mean cows, bulls and steers but also is frequently applied to domestic animals collectively, such as goats, sheep and swine.

Katrine Pulls Out Of National P-TA By 51 to 8 Vote

Members of the Lake Katrine Parent-Teachers Association voted Thursday night by an overwhelming margin to terminate affiliation with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. By a vote of 51 to 8 the group decided to return to a locally autonomous Parent-Faculty organization. Officers of the previous Lake Katrine Parent-Teachers Association were retained for the school year 1962-63.

Club president, Richard Meiers said, "It is hoped by the expression of the membership as indicated by the outcome of the election that an increase in interest and support by the parents will result. The fulfillment of the year's program should now be carried out for the benefit of the children in the Lake Katrine School.

The vote to return to a locally antonomous group was the climax of a two-year struggle to gain some permanent form of school-home group. During the school year 1960-61, the parents in the Lake Katrine School then involved in a Mother's Club, voted to form a Parent-Teacher Association affiliated with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. This group was initiated on a one year trial basis for the school year 1961-62. After its first year as P-TA the group assessed its progress and problems and conducted the affiliation election.

Following the vote last week, a committee, headed by Thomas Mannix, was formed to draft by-laws for the new school-home club. A rough draft of the by-laws is expected to be ready for the November meeting of the group now scheduled for Thursday night, Nov. 29.

Ravena Docker Killed

Frank Rose, 48, a Ravena longshoreman, was killed Wednesday afternoon at the Port of Albany when he received a fractured skull and broken neck when a fork lift he was operating tipped over. The accident occurred when the load shifted as he was unloading freight bales from a warehouse into a railroad car. Coroner Elmer Parker withheld a verdict.

One-Room Shady Schoolhouse Sold To Church Group

The old one-room frame Shady schoolhouse on Route 212 in that community was sold at public auction 9 o'clock this morning for $105 to the Methodist Church of Shady, and will be refurbished for Sunday school classes and youth activities.

George M. Smith, clerk of Onteora Central School District conducted the auction for the district.

Henry P. Eighmey, chairman of the board of trustees of the church was the low bidder. There was one other bidder. About 20 people attended.

The school, reported to be over 50 years old, is situated on about an acre of land and includes a well, wellhouse and woodshed.

Eighmey said the building will require considerable repairs before it can be used for church purposes and youth activities. The building has not been in use since the centralization and establishment of Onteora Central School District.

Submit Low Bids

DeCroce Contracting of Albany was low bidder on construction work to install ceiling in the gymnasium and chapel at the Highland Training School for Boys. The bid was $7,800. Quality Painters, Amsterdam, was low bidder on painting in building at Troop C State Police Barracks at Sydney. The bid was $3,400.

Physician Hedges On Cancer Link

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A cancer authority says there is a statistical link between smoking and lung cancer, but that the question of a possible biological link is still unsolved.

Dr. Alexander G. Gilliam, assistant chief of field investigations for the National Cancer Institute, gave the opinion in a deposition taken at Silver Springs, Md., in March, 1960.

It was read into the record in U. S. District Court Wednesday by attorneys for the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., which is being sued by Otto Pritchard, 64, of Pittsburgh. Pritchard claims the firm's Chesterfield cigarettes gave him lung cancer.

In answer to questions, Dr. Gilliam said in the deposition, "As far as I am concerned, the evidence is that at least white males in the United States and in Western Europe who are heavy smokers of cigarettes experience a greater risk of lung cancer than white males of comparable ages who do not smoke.

"Whether or not this means that smoking has anything whatsoever to do with cancer of the lung in any biological sense is, as far as I am concerned, an additional problem which remains to be resolved."

He said he could not say with certainty that smoking caused Pritchard's cancer.

Phaedra Star Is Fascinating and Perilous as Well

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Concerning Hollywood, Melina Mercouri has two feelings:

"I am like a bobbysoxer when it comes to the movie stars here. I would give anything to be able to meet Marlon Brando."

"I do not want to work here because the studios offer me the same part — the harlot with a heart of gold."

Ah, Hollywood, will it never learn? Because Mercouri flashed to stardom as the beneficent babe of "Never on Sunday," producers figure she is good for a string of such characters.

They figured without Mercouri, one of the new international stars who can get along without Hollywood very well. She was here this week not to discuss scripts, but as part of her journeys with her boon companion and mentor, Jules Dassin, to promote their new film "Phaedra."

"How can I stay here?" the volatile Greek asked. "There is no work for me. I am not rich. It costs a lot of money to stay in this hotel."

When it was suggested she might find it less expensive to stay elsewhere, say a motel, she snapped, "I am not Lolita."

That's the way it is with Mercouri: she is fascinating but perilous to talk to.

Treading carefully, I asked about her future plans. She said she was returning to London to play a role in "The Victors," then would appear with Danny Kaye in "Five Pieces of Maria"—if they fix the script for me; it was written for Sophia Loren, and she and I are not the same."

ROMANTIC ATTACHMENT—A new bicycle trailer, big enough to hold a fellow's sweetheart, was actually designed to carry camping equipment. It was shown at a bicycle and motorcycle exhibition, Frankfurt, West Germany.

Arsenal Found In College Dorm

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A surprise Halloween night search by combat-ready soldiers unearthed a small arsenal in a men's dormitory at the University of Mississippi. University officials vowed swift disciplinary action against students involved.

The sudden action followed the wounding of a military policeman by a firecracker, apparently tossed from a window of Lester Hall—adjoining Baxter Hall where James H. Meredith is housed.

Starts Second Month

After a quick breakfast this morning, Meredith, 29, began his second month of classes as the first Negro ever knowingly admitted to the 114-year-old university.

University officials, 4th graf ....

University officials cooperated in the dormitory search. Student Affairs Dean L. L. Love commented: "We just can't have things like that going on here. That soldier could have been seriously hurt."

The search turned up at least one dismantled M1 rifle, a dismantled pistol, several tear gas grenades, a full five-gallon can of gasoline and a large quantity of noisy firecrackers known as cherry bombs.

Neither university nor Justice Department official would detail the weapons found in the search.

The soldiers turned over to university officials the student identification cards of at least a half dozen persons. But no one would disclose the exact number or the specific charges.

Under university procedures, a student is considered under arrest when his ID card is confiscated and must face action of the Student Judicial Council.

More Police Arrive

As the bayonet-wielding MPs withdrew their cordon around Lester Hall, Mississippi highway patrolmen and police from Clarksdale—60 miles distant—arrived on campus. The university, moving rapidly after the deputy U.S. attorney general, Nicholas Katzenbach, flew here for talks about mounting tension, asked for the reinforcements to boost campus security forces.

Just before Meredith went to the campus dining room for supper, the soldiers encircled Lester Hall, blocking all entrances.

More than 100 male students quickly gathered outside, shouting at the boys temporarily imprisoned inside.

Dean Love and other key officials arrived quickly and asked students to disperse.

Explosive feelings on the campus this week have been attributed in some parts to the usual feverishness preceding the Ole Miss-Louisiana State University football game. The two teams, bitter rivals more than a half century, meet Saturday night at Baton Rouge, La.

Inspection Veto

two-day peacemaking visit to Cuba.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan left Moscow early today for talks with the Cuban prime minister. Western observers in the Soviet capital interpreted his sudden visit as an attempt to bring Castro into line with the Kennedy - Khrushchev agreement to dismantle the missile bases and send U.N. personnel to Cuba to verify fulfillment of the agreement.

Firm on Gitmo Demand

Without mentioning the missile bases, Havana Radio said Castro is standing firm on his demand that the United States give up its naval base at Guantanamo and call off all other measures to bring down the Castro regime.

A broadcast said Castro told a rally of Havana University students his government will come out of the crisis stronger and with more prestige than before.

The Cuban prime minister scheduled a television speech for later today. Advance radio announcements said he would "fully inform" the Cuban people of his talks with Thant.

Thant, after his return from Havana, drove to U.N. headquarters for brief separate talks Wednesday night with chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, sent here to negotiate the outcome of the Cuban crisis.

Calls Talks Fruitful

Informants said Thant would hold detailed consultations today with representatives of the United States, the Soviet Union and probably Cuba. Delegates predicted he would seek a Security Council session today or Friday to ask for a mandate that would give him a stronger hand in dealing with Castro.

Thant told newsmen at the airport his talks with Castro had been fruitful.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union acted swiftly as word spread that Thant had encountered difficulty with Castro. Before the chartered Brazilian jet returned Thant and his entourage of advisers to New York, the United States announced it would resume the blockade and air surveillance.

Moscow Radio announced Mikoyan was going to Cuba to "exchange views on the international situation with the government of Cuba."

Mikoyan was expected to spend tonight in New York en route to Havana, presumably to confer with Kuznetsov and possibly with Thant. U.S. officials in Washington said there was no plan for Mikoyan to see President Kennedy or Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the stopover.

Lions Schedule Coming Events

The Saugerties Lions Club will be host to the District Governor, Wilson Tinney, at its next meeting Monday 6:30 p. m. at the Mt. Marion Inn, it was announced by Frank Costello, president, following this week's meeting.

Announcement was also made that the Saugerties club will present a variety show Dec. 1 at the Saugerties High School. The program is being planned under the chairmanship of Stuart Buchan and a committee which includes John Kerns, Joseph Bosco and Ben Fein.

Area Man Attends Council Seminar

A seminar for members of the Recreation Council for the Elderly was held at White Plains Wednesday sponsored by the State Education Department, Bureau of Adult Education on behalf of the University of the State of New York.

Harry Slobodian, as chairman of the council which sponsors the Saugerties Golden Age Club, attended the all day meeting. There were several discussion groups dealing with programs for the elderly.

The Golden Age Club of Saugerties benefits from state aid through the sponsorship of the Recreational Council for the Elderly of the Town of Saugerties. Anyone in the area over 65 years of age may apply for membership by constacting its president, Mrs. Eva Watts of Jane Street.

Congregational Notes

The First Congregational Church of Saugerties will observe Harvest Home Day at the Sunday worship service 11 a. m. The Rev. Frederick J. Imhoff will preach the sermon. Gifts of fresh fruit and vegetables may be brought to the service. Articles will be distributed to homes in the area.

A member of the International Gideon Society will be the guest preacher Sunday, Nov. 11.

Area Activities

The Little Sawyers Arts and Craft Guild will hold an art exhibit next week in the Odd Fellows Building, Main Street.

S/P Edward Wey, now serving with the Armed Forces in Frankfort, Germany, has extended his duty tour for nine months and will return home next July. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wey of Blue Mountain Park.

The Saugerties Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Thomas W. Reynolds, 27 Chestnut Street, Kingston, 2 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 7. The topic of the afternoon will be National Defense and a book review by Mrs. Mandeville Diaz of You Can Trust the Communists by Dr. Schwarz will be featured.

Those desiring transportation may contact Mrs. Daniel Lammouree, Mrs. Chester Glunt or Mrs. William Young.

Members will bring clothing for Tamassee School to the meeting.

Fleet Resumes

body of its pilot, Air Force Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., 35, of Greenville, S.C.

Until now, the United States has listed Anderson as missing in action. A Defense Department spokesman said Thant's disclosure was the first word the U.S. government has had that Anderson was shot down over Cuba.

By all the signs, Anderson was piloting a high-flying U2 and may have been downed by a Soviet-supplied antiaircraft rocket.

Infects Uncertainty

Reimposition of the blockade may serve to prod Castro. His foot-dragging on U.N. inspection has injected a note of uncertainty in proceedings which had seemed to be moving smoothly since Sunday when Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed to dismantle his missile bases in Cuba and bring home his missiles.

The turn of events in Havana may have prompted Kennedy to call off a news conference, originally set for today, until the situation is clarified. Cancellation of the session was announced late Wednesday.

The blockade and aerial surveillance of Cuba had been suspended at Thant's request.

While Salinger declined to discuss the scope of the renewed quarantine, reporters got the impression that the same zones and rules would apply as during the first six days of the blockade.

The orders under which blockaders operated before—and presumably will again until the action is finally ended—called in essence for hailing, halting, boarding and searching suspicious vessels.

The blockaders have authority to use force, as slight as possible but to sink a resisting ship if necessary.

NBC Correspondent Expelled From Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—James Robinson, a correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co., left here today on expulsion orders from President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

He was charged with a minor infraction of visa application regulations. But the government's anger with critical reports broadcast by Robinson and other NBC men was understood to be behind the order.

Nine states (a two-thirds majority) had to accept the U. S. Constitution before it could become effective.

Saugerties Woman Is Hospitalized After 9W Mishap

Mrs. Marie J. Carter, 28, of Kalina Drive, Windemere, one of the drivers in a two-car highway mishap on Route 9W at Simmons Plaza Wednesday afternoon, was admitted to Benedctine Hospital.

Kingston state police reported that Mrs. Carter's daughter Joan, 5, banged into the dashboard of the car during the mishap and would be examined by the family physician.

Trooper David Wachtel reported Mrs. Carter was proceeding out of the parking lot at Simmons Plaza into Route 9W and was in collision with a car operated by Forman Schermerhorn, 70, of Route 4, Kingston. The mishap occurred at 4 p. m.

No False Alarms

damage by paint-smearing, egg-tossing, extravagent use of shaving cream, and instances of damaged or broken windows. A few cars were reported smeared or soaped, and Kingston police were notified that the top of a car owned by Samuel Perry Jr. of 56 Abruyn Street, had been slashed at Delaware and Hasbrouck Avenues. Other reports indicated damage to car radio aerials.

Kingston police received reports of firecracker and "cherry bomb" explosions, and one report noted the arrest of John F. Weider Jr., 19, who was charged with possessing fireworks. City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman today put hearing over to Nov. 8. He is under $25 bail. An arrest on a like charge was noted as early as Monday.

Sheriff Claude Bell had a force of 23 men on duty Halloween patrolling the county. Complaints were relayed to the patrol cars through two-way radio and cars were dispatched to the scene of complaint.

Generally the county area was "quiet" Sheriff Bell reported with no serious difficulties although the deputies were kept busy answering minor complaints.

Heavy in Highland

One of the newer "tricks" replacing the soap was shaving cream which was sprayed on windows and passing pedestrians. In the Highland area the shaving cream invasion was particularly heavy.

Calls began to come into the sheriff's office shortly after dark. Rain which fell throughout the evening discouraged many of the tricksters and the "small fry" were home early.

At 6:45 p. m. a call was received from Tillson where a resident near the post office reported her home being bombarded with eggs. In the same locality street signs were torn down.

Trouble at Creek Locks

At 7:05 a call was received from Creek Locks where a gang of youths were reported causing trouble at School House Lane. Shortly after Richard Frankfield of 13 Park Side Lane, Lake Katrine, reported a broken window. A Rifton deputy sheriff reported some 100 children being entertained at the firehouse party.

FHA Raises Fee For Lenders in Processing Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration today more than doubled the maximum fee that lenders can charge homeowners to cover the cost of processing government - insured home improvement loans.

FHA Commissioner Neal J. Hardy announced that the maximum fee has been raised to 2½ per cent of the amount of the loan or $50, whichever is greater. The old maximum was 1 per cent or $20.

Hardy said the action was based on a field office survey which showed that the old fee "was not sufficient to cover the lender's cost of making the loan."

The new regulations apply to loans made under a 1961 law providing for 20-year advances of up to $10,000 at 6 per cent maximum interest.

FHA is hopeful the increase in the fee will spur the home improvement loan program, which has been lagging.

In a companion announcement, the Federal National Mortgage Association said it will henceforth purchase home improvement loans at par in the secondary market. FNMA formerly paid 99 cents on the dollar for such loans.

Mariner 2 Has Disorder Now in Its Power System

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—After rolling up nearly 12 million trouble-free miles, the Venus-bound Mariner 2 spacecraft has suddenly developed a mysterious disorder in its power system.

But scientists say the 447-pound vehicle may still accomplish its scientific mission when it passes Venus in mid-December.

Project spokesmen reported that there had been a sudden drop in voltage supplied by solar panels aboard Mariner 2. This caused apprehension because it would start drawing power from its battery if the voltage drop continued. The battery power, needed later, would be quickly exhausted.

Scientists at Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory decided to turn off Mariner instruments conducting four interplanetary scientific experiments. They calculated this would reduce the power drain by more than 50 per cent. Reason for the power drain hasn't been explained.

More Radioactive Iodine Noted in Milk From Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has reported increases in radioactive iodine in pasteurized milk in a number of areas during August and September as a result of both U.S. and Soviet nuclear testing.

Palmer, Alaska, had an average of 730 micromicrocuries per liter of milk, the highest listed during September.

A spokesman said the service had not recommended countermeasures in any area, and regards the levels as not constituting a public health hazard.

The summary said the daily levels of radioactive iodine-131 from the July U.S. tests in Nevada declined in Salt Lake City milk from 730 to 100 micromicrocuries per liter in August, and the August Salt Lake City average was 330.

The only other station with an iodine-131 August average over 40 micromicrocuries was Laramie, Wyo., with 160.

The September averages for both Salt Lake City and Laramie were 40.

"Apparent effects of the U.S.S.R. nuclear tests appeared in September," the service added, with 62 stations showing an average daily iodine-131 content of 60 micromicrocuries per liter compared to an August average of 20.

During September the monthly averages of 40 stations exceeded 20, compared to six stations in August, and during September nine stations had averages of 100 micromicrocuries or more: Palmer 730; Chicago 160; Des Moines 120; Detroit 120; Buffalo, N. Y., 100; Minot, N. D., 170; Rapid City, S. D., 130; and Milwaukee 120.

Memoriam

In fond and loving memory of my dear husband and our beloved father, LeRoy K. Lyons, who God called home one year ago today, Nov. 1, 1961.

Somewhere back of the sunset,
We see a smiling face.
The sweetest smile of one we loved
And long so to embrace.
Now the face is gone that we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech;
But not too far for thought to reach.
We watch his grave with loving care,
Because part of our hearts are buried there.
Deeply missed,
LOVING WIFE, CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN

To Fight Ruling Barring Speech By Communist

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State University Board of Trustees will fight a judge's ruling that barred a Communist Party official from addressing students at the University of Buffalo.

Frank C. Moore, board chairman, said Wednesday that the trustees would "continue to defend the lawful freedom of inquiry that an academic community must possess if it is to maintain an education program of strength and depth."

Moore made the statement a short while after Justice Russell Hunt of State Supreme Court continued a temporary injunction he issued Monday against the lecture by Herbert Aptheker, a member of the national committee of the Communist Party, at the Buffalo campus.

Aptheker had been invited by the school's Student Association to be the last of a series of five speakers representing various political ideologies. His talk, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, was postponed indefinitely.

The trustees on Monday turned down a request by State Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, the powerful Republican majority leader, that the board prohibit the Communist's appearance.

The injunction was granted on the motion of William W. Egan of Ballston Lake, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 30th district. His attorney told the court the trustees' decision to permit Aptheker to speak at Buffalo was "un-American."

The court action will be continued Nov. 9.

Aptheker said in a written statement to the Student Association in Buffalo:

"I naturally am very disappointed that the opportunity to address you, and be questioned by you, has been, temporarily, curbed."

Higher Prices Due, Vegetable Crop Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of fresh vegetables this fall is down materially from a year ago and prices are expected to average significantly higher than in the fall of 1961.

Dairymen to Be Warned on Drug Effects in Milk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration says more than 200 drug firms have agreed to warn dairymen in their advertisements that some drugs used to treat cows may show up in milk.

The FDA announced Wednesday it has completed a campaign designed to make sure that milk with drug residues doesn't go on the market.

Charles A. Sweeney, chief of the Federal Trade Commission's Food and Drug Advertising Division, described it as a preventive program.

Voluntary agreements signed by firms that make and market drugs used to treat dairy cattle buttress an earlier FTC order requiring that drug labels warn farmers against use of milk in which residues may be found.

Labels and advertisements must include a warning against use of the drug on milk-producing animals, or a warning not to permit human consumption of milk from treated animals within a specified period after the final drug treatment. The time limit varies with different drugs.

During the peak of the 1960 season, approximately 8.2 million pleasure boats were in operation.

Publisher Backs University

Newhouse Pledges $15 Million for Syracuse Center

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel E. Newhouse, the newspaper publisher, has pledged $15 million toward the construction of a mass communications study center at Syracuse University.

Chancellor William P. Tolley of the university announced a pledge of $13 million from Newhouse Wednesday—in addition to the $2 million the publisher gave for the center in January, 1960.

Tolley called it one of the largest gifts made to an American university by a living donor in the last decade.

The Project, to be called the Newhouse Communications Center, was described as "the world's largest and most advanced study center in mass communications." The studies will include journalism, radio and television, audio-visual and other communications media.

Newhouse, 66, who owns or partly owns 19 newspapers across the nation, as well as magazines and radio and television stations, made his contribution to Syracuse University through the Newhouse foundation. The gift inaugurates an eight-year campaign to raise $76 million for building construction and educational endowments.

Newhouse is a trustee of Syracuse University and holds an honorary doctorate from the institution.

Among the Newhouse properties are the Syracuse Herald-Journal, the Syracuse Post-Standard, the Sunday Herald - American and Syracuse stations WSYR-AM, FM and TV, and WSYE-TV.

Conservatives Say Pay for Candidate Perfectly Proper

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Attorneys for the state's Conservative Party contend that a salary paid to its candidate for the U.S. Senate was "perfectly proper."

The party's pre-election financial statement, filed with the Department of State, shows that Kieran O'Doherty, the senatorial nominee, has been drawing a party salary since last spring.

Others on the payroll, according to the statement, were O'Doherty's brother, James, Conservative State Chairman J. Daniel Mahoney and Mahoney's wife, Kathleen.

The salary to Kieran O'Doherty totaled about $5,500 in biweekly checks from April 17 through Oct. 15. Mahoney, who started as party vice chairman, drew slightly more than $5,000 for the same period.

Party chairman in the state traditionally have been paid a salary. No precedent was found, however, for a candidate to be paid by his party.

Asked by a newsman about the payments to Kieran O'Doherty, Mahoney said, "we checked this out with our lawyers, and they said it was perfectly proper."

He said O'Doherty had been active as a candidate for only a few weeks and earlier had organized a drive in Western New York to obtain signatures for the party's nominating petitions.

O'Doherty had been the party's state chairman until July when he was named to run for the Senate.

An assistant to the state attorney general said he would have to study the circumstances of the salary to O'Doherty before giving an opinion. He added, however, that such payments "might not be proper."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm commodity prices dipped 2 per cent during the month ended Oct. 15, but still reached a four-year high for October.

The U.S. Agriculture Department reported Wednesday that lower prices were received by farmers for hogs, beef cattle, chickens, potatoes and most other goods.

Prices for wholesale milk, tomatoes and rice were reported higher than at mid-September.

Despite the decrease from the September price level, the department said, the Oct. 15 index was 2 per cent above that of Oct. 15, 1961, and the highest for the month since 1958.

matter of fact

Monkeys, dogs and men are not the only explorers of space—mice are also pioneers. Late in 1960 it was reported that veterinarians had successfully implanted tiny radio transmitters under the skin of mice and that such mice transmitted from space, for as long as 27 days, electrocardiograms and information about respiratory and muscular activities.

Directors Are Named for County Bishops Appeal

Ulster County directors were announced today for the annual Thanksgiving clothing collection sponsored by the Catholic Bishops of the United States for overseas relief.

They are the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, chairman, St. Mary's Church, this city; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Cunningham, St. Mary's and St. Andrew's Church, Ellenville and the Rev. Thomas P. Cahill, St. Augustine's Church, Highland.

Directors will organize parishes in the county for the appeal which will be conducted Nov. 18 to 25. Items to be collected include used clothing, shoes and blankets.

The clothing drive, to be held in all Catholic parishes throughout the nation will benefit men, women and children in some 65 countries of South America, Africa, the Far East, Europe, the Near East and Middle East, Central America and the Caribbean.

Very Rev. Msgr. Frederick A. Nelan, director of the appeal for the New York Archdiocese, said that distribution of the clothing will be made under American supervision without regard to race, creed or color by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas agency of the American bishops.

Approximately 17,400,000 pounds of used clothing having an estimated value of $25,000,000 were donated in last year's Thanksgiving Clothing Collection. Of this amount about 1,000,000 pounds came from New York Archdiocese which also contributed $266,632 for food and medicine for the needy.

Ermine's Color

Fur of the ermine is brown in summer and changes to a yellowish white in normal winter weather. It turns pure white in extreme cold.

Deposits made on or before Nov. 5 draw bonus dividends from Nov. 1st at the Ulster County Savings Institution, 280 Wall Street, Kingston, N. Y., member FDIC.

INTERVENTION!

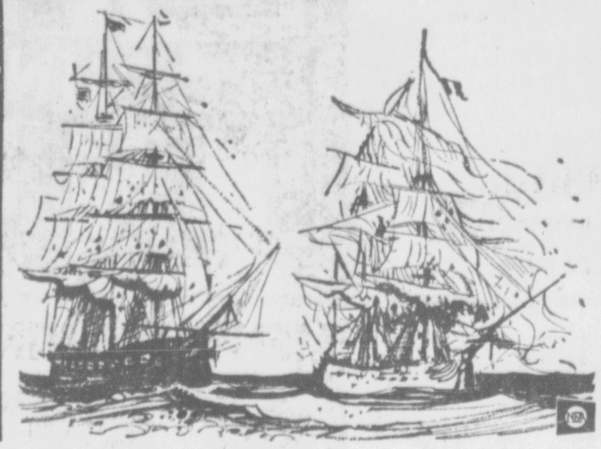

U.S. and the Hemisphere

by Don Oakley & John Lane

From its beginning, the United States has exerted a dominant role in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere. It has brought its power to bear against both foreign nations and its own sister republics of Latin America, in episodes ranging from minor shows of force to full-scale war. U.S. interventions have not always been as nobly inspired as we could wish, but in the final analysis, the story is one of American determination to preserve the freedom and security of the hemisphere against tyrants, both foreign and domestic.

Aside from skirmishes with the British during the 1790s over the disputed territory west of the 13 original states, the first direct U.S. action against a foreign power in the Western Hemisphere came in 1798. The previous year, France, at war with most of Europe, had begun attacking all neutral ships carrying English cargoes.

War loomed between the U.S. and France. In 1798, Congress voided all treaties with France and ordered the Navy and privateers to attack French ships. They captured 84. In 1799, the USS Constellation defeated the French Insurgente. Napoleon halted the French provocations upon becoming First Consul.

Intervention-in-reverse was attempted by Thomas Jefferson, during whose two terms war with England was a constant threat. British blockade of Napoleonic France was met with Jefferson's embargo in 1807-09 against all trade with Europe. American merchant ships rotted at their wharves, their owners bankrupt. Under Madison in 1810, the embargo was limited to trade with Britain. End of British blockade in 1812 came too late to prevent war.

Rosendale Man On Cab Charge, Held for Jury

A Rosendale man held on a charge of second degree grand larceny in connection with the alleged theft of a taxicab, taken from Main Street, Rosendale, and wrecked at Tillson, waived examination Wednesday night when he appeared before Town of Kingston Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan and is being held in Ulster County Jail pending grand jury action.

Troopers Richard I. Ryan and James Conrad of Kingston station reported Thomas George Collins, 24, of Rosendale was captured and the taxicab, owned by Donald DePuy of Rosendale, was recovered about 10 minutes after the theft was reported.

Troopers said Collins took the cab from the taxi stand on Main Street, proceeded south on Route 32, apparently in the westbound lane, hit some guard rails, went down an embankment and rolled over.

Collins was taken to Kingston Hospital where he was treated for injuries sustained and released. He was committed to Ulster County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Shutout Bid Doesn't Work

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jerry Levitt and Garrett Nash of St. Louis will be dark horse entries at the Phoenix trials.

Jerry hates to be shut out of the bidding and when West's four heart bid came around to him Jerry tried four spades.

East doubled. It didn't look like a mistake at the time and things looked even better to East after his partner opened the five of diamonds and ruffed the diamond return.

But Jerry was optimistic. He was pretty sure that West had opened four hearts with 8-3-1-1 distribution. Assuming that West held the king of clubs as part of his bid Jerry set out to teach East when not to double.

West could have beaten the hand with a club shift, but he played ace and another heart, whereupon the defense was through.

Jerry ruffed in dummy and led a spade. He planned to play the eight if East played the seven, but East played the nine. Jerry won with the queen and led the jack of clubs. West ducked and Jerry played dummy's queen. He led another spade and won East's ten with the king. He led a club to the ace, ruffed a club, entered dummy with the jack of diamonds; led another club and showed East his hand.

East could ruff or discard his last diamond, but he couldn't get a trick.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fight fall colds with cold orange juice and a warm kitchen, neighborhood grocers might advise this weekend.

They are featuring a variety of roasts—beef, pork and lamb—that invite stoking up the oven on nippy days.

Frozen orange juice concentrate is a sale item at many stores and at lower-than-average price in almost all of them, in view of a heavy pack.

A record Florida citrus crop is just beginning to flow into the market, and that will affect both concentrate and fresh fruit prices.

Among meats, the most widely featured are rib and chuck roasts of beef. Loin roasts are stars of the pork offerings.

Other meat and poultry attractions include porterhouse, sirloin and rib steaks, smoked hams, bacon, sausage, broiler-fryers and turkeys.

Cheese continues a feature as another good protein source and eggs continue to ride at relatively low levels.

Weekend fruit attractions include apples, cranberries, grapes and pears.

Vegetable specials include cauliflower, artichokes, broccoli, brussel sprouts, pole beans, butternut squash, yellow onions, turnip greens, and rutubagas.

Injured Fatally

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — James M. Kennedy, 50, of Syracuse, was injured fatally Wednesday when his automobile and two tank trucks collided on Route 57, about two miles south of here.

Kennedy's car brushed against one truck, then slammed head on into the other truck, which burst into flames, police said.

'Firefly' to Flash Lights on Saturday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The blinking beacons on the United States' new "Firefly" satellite will be triggered for the first time Saturday night, officials report.

The flashing of the four high-intensity xenon gas lights will signal the beginning of a program which officials hope will lead to more accurate determination of the size and shape of the earth, location of its center of gravity and distances between far apart places.

The satellite, named Anna, was rocketed into orbit Wednesday from Cape Canaveral. Project spokesmen reported all systems were functioning well and that precise determination of the vehicle's path was being made before the lights are winked for the first time.

Exact time and place for Saturday's initial flashes will be determined by the Applied Physics Laboratory, Johns Hopkins University, where the satellite was developed. Laboratory scientists will send a radio signal to activate the lights.

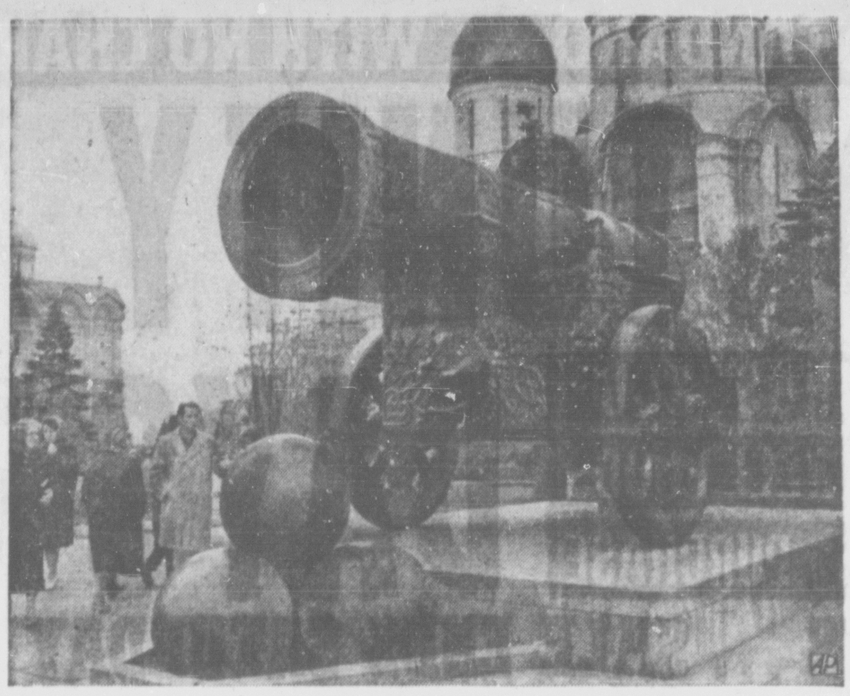

The beacons will be activated at night when the sky is clear so that telescopic cameras will be able to photograph them against a background of known stars. The flashes should be visible to anyone through binoculars and the Defense Department said it hoped to release the flash times in advance.

'Phony,' Morhouse Says of Reported Offer to Wagner

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he was offered legislative authorization for a new city tax in a swap for his endorsement of Gov. Rockefeller's accomplishments in education and housing.

He turned it down, the mayor said Wednesday in a campaign statement.

William L. Pfeiffer, the Republican state campaign chairman, termed the Democratic mayor's statements "phony melodramatics."

Wagner named no names in making the announcement at Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau's gubernatorial campaign headquarters. He said the offer came "to me quite directly" from good, reliable sources during the last session of the Legislature.

The mayor claimed it was suggested that he write that Rockefeller "had done more for education and housing than any other administration," and in return, a commercial building occupancy tax wanted by the city would be authorized.

Gardener Is Charged In Widow's Slaying

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)— Lindy Repanti, 34, a landscape gardener for a Westchester hospital, has been charged with second-degree murder in the bludgeon slaying of a 39-year-old widow.

The decomposed body of the Negro victim, Janie Dye Nettles, was found Oct. 7 in a wooded area on the hospital grounds. She had been missing for a month.

Repanti, of Harrison, was held without bail Wednesday for grand jury action.

Police said Repanti, who is white, told them he struck Mrs. Nettles with a hammer after an argument over money, but that she had first tried to use the hammer on him.

Rug City Grocer Is Indicted for Taxes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — An Amsterdam grocer was under federal indictment today on a charge of evading payment of $28,414 in income taxes over a four-year period.

A federal grand jury returned the four-count indictment Wednesday against Joseph Martuscello.

The government contended that, during the 1956-1959 period, Martuscello earned $99,667 but claimed earnings of $15,345 on which he paid taxes of $1,367.

Winterize Habits Behind Wheel as Well as Car: N. Y.

ALBANY — "Winterize your driving habits as well as your car," is the advice offered by the New York State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Commissioner William S. Hults recommended that all motorists review the basic principles of winter driving now so that they will be ready to deal with the hazards of icy and snow-covered roads.

"It's almost like learning to drive all over again—every year," said Commissioner Hults. "Drivers must brush-up on routine techniques which may have been forgotten during the summer months. Starting, steering and stopping require special attention and extra care on treacherous winter highways."

In November, the Department will focus attention on winter driving problems as part of its monthly "Learn and Live Program." The following suggestions are given to help drivers "winterize their driving habits."

Starting — Always accelerate smoothly and gently. If wheels begin to spin, ease up on the gas. If you are stuck in a shallow depression, try rocking the car back and forth until you gain enough momentum to roll free. Use sand or chains when necessary.

Steering — Always steer smoothly and gently. Sudden steering changes can throw you into a skid. Slow down when approaching turns, and turn as wide as the road permits. If you start to skid, ease up on the gas and turn gently into the skid—don't hit the brakes hard.

Stopping — Always stop smoothly and gently. Hitting your brakes on slippery pavements will cause skids. Anticipate stops well in advance so that you can slow gradually. Increase the following distance behind other cars so that if they stop short or lose control, you will be able to avoid a collision. If your wheels skid as you are stopping, pump your brakes (alternately braking and releasing) so that you can keep control as you stop. Locked wheels may cause you to skid.

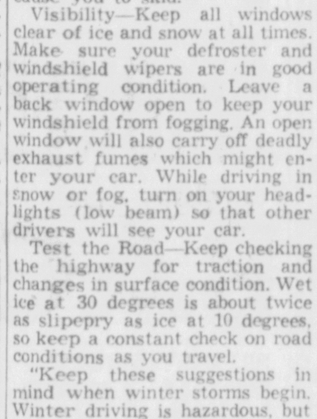

Visibility—Keep all windows clear of ice and snow at all times. Make sure your defroster and windshield wipers are in good operating condition. Leave a back window open to keep your windshield from fogging. An open window will also carry off deadly exhaust fumes which might enter your car. While driving in snow or fog, turn on your headlights (low beam) so that other drivers will see your car.

Test the Road—Keep checking the highway for traction and changes in surface condition. Wet ice at 30 degrees is about twice as slippery as ice at 10 degrees, so keep a constant check on road conditions as you travel.

"Keep these suggestions in mind when winter storms begin. Winter driving is hazardous, but you will be reasonably safe if you adjust your driving techniques to changing conditions," the commissioner advised.

Mayor's Efforts Are Fruitless

Strike Idles N Y Daily News, ANG Eyes 6 Other Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Daily News—largest circulation newspaper in the country—was struck and shut down by the New York Newspaper Guild today.

Mediation efforts, including one by the mayor of New York, proved fruitless and the strike threatened to spread to the other six major dailies in this city of 8 million.

The Guild, finding itself in a deadlock over wages with all of the publishers, has vowed to strike each of the newspapers, one by one if no settlement is reached, and it picked the News as its first target. Contracts between the Guild, a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild, and all seven newspapers expired at midnight.

The publishers vowed to stand together and to make their facilities available to the News so it could keep publishing.

Guild editorial and business employes walked off their jobs at the News at 12:01 a.m. and threw up picket lines.

Talks broke off at the other three morning newspapers shortly thereafter.

At the urgent request of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, key negotiators for both sides then went to Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official residence, and continued their efforts for four hours before recessing without evidence of progress toward a settlement.

The mayor announced that the negotiators would resume their meeting later today.

Morning editions of the Herald Tribune and the Mirror came out on schedule. The Times kept its presses running straight through until the midnight deadline without stopping for replates—and therefore had only three editions instead of the normal five.

Spokesmen for the city's afternoon papers, the Journal-American, Post and World-Telegram & The Sun, said they expected to publish as usual.

The Guild sought a general 10 per cent wage increase, and a weekly top minimum wage of $200. Present top minimums range from $162 to $168, with numerous employes receiving salaries above the minimums.

An offer of a $5 weekly increase spread over two years made by the Times, News, Journal-American and Mirror was turned down by the Guild.

Himalayan border. The Chinese are expected to resume the drives that have carried them into India at 13 points since they attacked Oct. 20.

Hail Menon Ouster

All New Delhi newspapers today hailed Prime Minister Nehru's demotion of Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, and new demands were made that Menon be ousted from the Cabinet entirely. Nehru, 72, took over the Defense Ministry himself Wednesday and demoted Menon, his closest associate, to the secondary post of minister of defense production.

The Hindustan Times, which supports Nehru's Congress party, said: "The division of the defense portfolio between Nehru and Menon makes neither military nor political sense."

Some new British weapons already have arrived in India, and the first shipment of U.S. arms was to be flown in today or Friday.

Nehru met with his military commanders today for the first time in his new capacity as defense minister. An official spokesman said they exchanged views on the war. Nehru actually had shoved Menon into the background ever since the border fighting started and had been dealing directly with the military leaders.

No Role on Arms

Official sources said Menon, who had come under increasing fire for failing to prepare adequate Indian defenses, would have no role in procuring arms from the United States, Britain or Canada.

American officials have long resented Menon's outspoken criticism of U.S. policies and his avowed friendliness with the Communist-bloc nations.

The United States is expected to furnish India semi-automatic rifles, light mortars, grenades, trucks, jeeps and radio equipment.

Sources close to Nehru said the prime minister had expected Menon to resign and that Menon's relegation to a secondary post was a hint for him to step out of the Cabinet voluntarily.

Simplifies System

$4,905 Saving Is Made on City's Fire Insurance

Mayor John J. Schwenk today announced that for the first time all of the city's fire insurance has been consolidated under a single, new type public and industrial property policy.

This resulted of competitive bidding, and fire coverage was awarded to the Lawrence A. Quilty Agency, 58 Pearl Street, low bidder with a five-year premium of $9,370.39, a saving of $4,905.22 under numerous proceeding policies totaling premiums at $14,275.61.

More Protection

Aside from the cash savings over the five-year period, the mayor said, the new fire coverage adds protection against vandalism and malicious mischief, and places the city's fire insurance on a more businesslike basis. The new type policy simplifies bookkeeping, permits payment of one annual check, and makes all information available on a single policy.

In addition, the mayor reported, insurance for the boiler and machinery used in the Recreation Department, sewage disposal plant, and central heating system has been awarded to the Mutual Insurers Agency, low bidder with a five year premium of $1,464.68. This coverage, which raises the protection on each accident from $15,000 to $100,000 reflecting higher replacement costs, provides at least a 10 per cent premium savings under previous rates.

12 Bids Made

Some 12 bids were made for the city's fire insurance, ranging from the Quilty Agency's low of $9,370.39 to a top bid of $15,075.75. Two bids were made for the boiler and machinery insurance, ranging from the low of $1,464.68 for five years, to a high of $1,469.46 for three years. Bids were advertised on Sept. 24, 1962, opened in the mayor's office on Oct. 5, 1962, and then reviewed by an independent insurance consultant.

Separate Car Mishaps Bring Death to Two

NORWICH, N.Y. (AP) — A 36-year-old mother and a 20-year-old man died Wednesday in Chenango Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in separate automobile accidents.

They were:

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkinson of Milford, Otsego County, who was injured last Sunday in the collision of an automobile and a milk tanker near South New Berlin, east of here. She had six children.

Richard H. Cutting of Sherburne, who was injured Oct. 19 when the automobile in which he was riding overturned along a road near his hometown.

Benefit Pay Is Ordered Cabbie Who Helped Fare

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A taxi-driver who suffered a heart attack after helping a woman passenger carry bundles to her apartment is entitled to workmen's compensation benefits, an appeals court held today.

The Appellate Division, Third Department, unanimously reversed a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board and ordered payment of benefits to Norman Brandmark of Manhattan.

Brandmark suffered the attack July 26, 1958, after making four trips to the woman's third-floor apartment with packages and luggage. She was moving into the apartment.

The compensation board had held that, by leaving his cab unattended, Brandmark had violated a police regulation and thus had "voluntarily removed himself from his employer's employment."

The Appellate Division contended, however, that there was no violation of regulations unless it could be shown that the driver had left his credentials in the cab. There was no evidence to that effect, the court said.

Arrest Touches Off Ontario Riot

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP)—A mob of about 300, angered by the arrest of a soldier, stormed the City Hall police station Wednesday night and hurled rocks through windows.

Police dispersed the crowd with tear gas and arrested 12 persons, including eight soldiers.

Police traced the riot to a fight between teen-agers and soldiers at a downtown restaurant. Another scuffle ensued in front of a nearby hotel, and a soldier was arrested.

A jeering crowd followed a police cruiser six blocks to the station and blocked its entrance at a garage door. It went to the front of the building and the prisoner was hurried into the station.

Police headquarters summoned all available patrolmen, and a policeman fired a tear gas pellet through a second floor window. No one was reported injured.

Pacific Shot Is Visible in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—A fireball flashed across the Pacific today as the United States set off its fourth high-altitude nuclear device in eight attempts above tiny Johnston Island.

A brilliant series of rainbow colors, visible here 750 miles from the test area, lighted the skies for almost a minute before blending into the darkness.

The fireball wasn't expected to be visible here and observers were surprised by the sudden brilliance of the sky. The flash of last Friday's blast barely was visible through the clouds.

The device, sent aloft an estimated 30 to 40 miles Wednesday night by a Thor booster, packed a nuclear punch in the submegaton range, equivalent to between 20,000 and a million tons of TNT.

Joint Task Force 8 officials had held up the shot for nearly four hours because of apparent technical difficulties.

Four earlier attempts to detonate nuclear devices above Johnston fizzled because of malfunctions in the Thor missile tracking system.

Another high-altitude, low-yield test is planned for Saturday, possibly the concluding shot in the current test series that began last April 25.

Disgusted With Market? What About Savings?

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "We have $40,000 invested in Pacific Gas & Electric, Bank of America, and American Telephone. We also have $60,000 in savings accounts. We have been disgusted with the stock market in the last few months. Could still sell at a big profit. Would you advise us to do so?" M.J.

A) I think you are very fortunate people, and I congratulate you. The stocks you hold are three of the best stocks you could possibly own.

I wouldn't consider selling them at present levels even though a further downside joggle is perfectly possible before the market stabilizes.

You say that even after one of the worst market breaks of many years you still have big profits in your stocks. I hope you won't think me impertinent if I ask you a serious question. How much profit do you have on your savings accounts?

I know your capital is safe there, but this country is growing and I think you should own some stocks to grown with it.

Q) "Five years ago, I bought some stocks for future security and income. I am now worried about my holdings, which have not been reviewed by anyone since they were purchased. I own General Telephone, International Minerals, Beneficial Standard Life Insurance and Kratter. Have you any suggestions?" F.C.

A) My very first suggestion is that you have your holdings reviewed more often. Things change very rapidly in the financial business, and today's strong holding may be tomorrow's "dog."

I am glad to report, however, that your list is on the whole excellent and I have only one suggestion to make—switch out of Kratter. This company is perhaps the best managed of the real estate firms, but by the very nature of its business the shares must be considered rather speculative—too much so for someone like yourself who is not close to the financial scene.

You would be better off holding Maytag, one of the top appliance firms and a good dividend-payer. (Copyright 1962 General Features Corp.)

Gas Fumes Fatal

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Ella Murdock, 47, of Union Springs, died today in Auburn Memorial Hospital of gas poisoning suffered when she and her husband were overcome Monday in their cottage on Cayuga Lake.

Her husband, Archie, also 47, has been removed from the critical list, the hospital said.

They were discovered in their bed by a son-in-law Monday evening. Authorities said the fumes apparently were emitted by a space heater.

Advent Program Stalled by Rift Between Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Space Committee says friction between the Army and Air Force partly explains why the nation has very little to show for the $170 million spent on the military's Advent communications project.

"If the Advent program is not a good example of interservice rivalry, it is certainly a poor example of effective interservice cooperation," the committee said in its report Wednesday.

Advent was conceived in 1958 as a worldwide jam-proof military communications system.

As originally planned, Advent would have used a 1,000-pound satellite placed into a tricky orbit by the Centaur rocket—then on the drawing board. But, the report said, the satellite's weight grew to 1,300 pounds as it developed. The Centaur, far behind schedule, seemed less and less capable of handling such a payload.

Now, the idea is to develop a new 500-pound package for an interim system using an Atlas-Agena rocket.

"The original estimates of the total costs of the Advent research and development program reportedly were $140 million," the committee said. "By the time the project was canceled, well over $170 million had been spent, much of which has been written off as an unrecoverable loss."

Thief Gets $120, Beats Woman, 20

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A thief wearing a rubber halloween mask beat and robbed a 20-year-old woman of $120 early today as she was about to make a night deposit of her employer's receipts, police reported.

Miss Rose Bard of Syracuse told police her assailant lunged out of the shadows of a bank building in suburban Mattydale and struck her on the head with the stock of a shotgun. She said he wored the gnarled mask of an old man, a plaid shirt and dungarees.

Sold Down River By Nik: Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro in a bitter tirade at his meeting with U Thant, accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of having sold him down the river, diplomatic informants said today.

The high-level sources said Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, reported he had a most unpleasant trip to Cuba on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Castro, these sources said, volunteered his bitter remarks right at the outset of his first conference with the Burmese diplomat. He stated repeatedly that he was not consulted about Moscow's decision to dismantle the missile bases in Cuba.

Castro insisted that his five demands, including U.S. withdrawal from the Guantanamo naval base, must be carried out before he would even consider permitting U.N. inspection of the missile bases and international inspection of their dismantling.

U.S. authorities restated today that Washington continues to ignore Castro's proposals completely.

Price Goes Higher For Release of Castro Prisoners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro has increased the price for release of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners and imposed certain new conditions, the Miami News said today.

Retail value of medicines, drugs, medical supplies and other goods demanded is estimated by Castro at $100 million, the News said.

James Donovan, the New York attorney negotiating for release of the prisoners, said earlier Castro had demanded $62 million worth of drugs, medical supplies and baby foods.

Hal Hendrix, News Latin-America editor, said Castro had sent the following conditions to Donovan for release of the prisoners:

1. One year's supply of blood plasma.
2. Detention of Capt. Manuel Artime Buesa, commander of the invasion brigade.
3. A pledge that the United States will not participate in any repetition of the Bay of Pigs landing.

Mrs. FDR Unchanged

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spent a somewhat uncomfortable Wednesday night but her condition today was reported as "essentially unchanged."

Mrs. Roosevelt, 78, is being treated for a lung infection and anemia.

GIs Appear Set For Long Stay In Fla. Sector

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—American troops strung barbed wire barricades along a portion of the Key West shore facing Havana 90 miles away and apppeared today to be digging in for an extended stay.

Military installations, rushed here during the Cuban crisis, were at the alert, while patroling by armed planes continued around the clock.

Military equipment and some fresh troops continued to arrive.

Machine-gun emplacements on the beach, behind the barbed wire, were piled with sandbags.

However, a flight up the Florida keys—the chain of coral and sand islands stretching from the Florida mainland in the general direction of Havana—revealed no military preparations there.

There were no guards on the pipeline which carries water down the keys, or on the island-hopping highway.

No military installations were visible from the air north of the Key West area, where portable radar units and anti-aircraft missiles guarded by soldiers in sandbagged foxholes, have been dug in.

The airstrip at Marathon, about midway up the keys, appeared almost deserted, in contrast to the Boca Chica Naval Air Station near here, where the sun glints off rows of fighter jets rushed here for the emergency.

Letter, Understanding (?), Jet Bombers

Missing Pieces Pose Cuban Uncertainties

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three pieces missing from the information made public so far on Cuba may contain the seeds of fresh trouble.

There's an unpublished letter, a question of understanding, and a problem of jet bombers.

To Much for Granted?

1. Did President Kennedy take too much for granted when Premier Khrushchev agreed to let the United Nations supervise dismantling of Soviet missile bases in Cuba and the return of the missiles to Russia?

2. Has there been an understanding—or a great lack of understanding — between Khrushchev and Cuba's Fidel Castro on the dismantling of the missiles and the U.N. supervision of their removal?

3. Why has nothing been said publicly about the removal also of those Soviet jet bombers which, Kennedy said in his broadcast a week ago, are capable of carrying nuclear weapons?

That there's a misunderstandstanding some place showed up Wednesday night when U Thant, acting U.N. secretary-general, returned from Cuba apparently after failure to get Castro to agree on U.N. supervision on the missile removal.

The published exchange of letters last week between Kennedy and Khrushchev nowhere spelled out clearly what kind of supervision the U.N. should exercise. There is where one of the missing pieces comes in.

Red Note Withheld

Over the weekend Khrushchev wrote Kennedy a letter which seems to have agreed not only to removing the missiles but permitting U.N. observers to check on the removal. But the White House never made this Russian letter public.

Kennedy's answering letter was released by the White House.

In it Kennedy, referring to Khrushchev's unpublished one, said he understood the Russian to say he agreed "to remove these weapons and weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision."

But what does "appropriate" mean? Does it mean letting the U.N. observers in to see the actual dismantling and the shipping of the missiles back home? Or does it mean something else which could make Americans deeply uneasy?

In short, does it mean letting a U.N. team in to look around—perhaps at dismantled missile bases—and then have to take the Russian and Cuban word that the missiles had been sent back to Russia?

Khrushchev answered Kennedy's letter with still another of his own. He explained he had instructed Soviet officers to dismantle the missile sites and return the weapons to Russia.

The White House made this Khrushchev letter public. In this letter Khrushchev, referring to the one Kennedy hasn't released, said:

"As I informed you, we are prepared to reach agreement to enable representatives of the United Nations to verify the dismantling of these means (the missiles and missile sites.)"

No Nik Comment

Nowhere in all this has Khrushchev committed himself to letting U.N. observers into Cuba to watch the dismantling while it was happening.

Therefore, unless the unpublished letter says otherwise, Khrushchev can argue he had in mind only letting U.N. observers see the empty missile sites. But how then could the observers be sure the missiles were out of Cuba?

If Kennedy had insisted on having all this spelled out, future trouble and argument might have been avoided, unless the President feels that dismantling of the bases is enough proof the missiles are gone.

This fogginess may explain why Castro wouldn't agree with the U.N. secretary-general, preferring either to confuse the situation or refusing to let in the observers at all. As of Wednesday night U Thant did not make this clear.

All he did say was that he had been reliably informed the missile sites would be dismantled by Friday and out of Cuba soon afterward. That's a long way from being able to say for a fact that the United Nations will know the missiles have been taken out of Cuba, unless inspection is allowed.

It's possible Khrushchev's intentions were all right and that Castro crossed him up and refuses to cooperate. He has apparently done something to upset the Russians.

Wednesday night Khrushchev sent one of his right-hand men flying over to see Castro. This was First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who will spend a day in New York before continuing on to Havana.

Guantanamo Bay Evacuees Aided By Red Cross

American Red Cross volunteers and staff members are on hand at U.S. Naval Installations at Norfolk and Little Creek, Va., providing welfare services to evacuated families from Guantanamo Bay including safe arrival messages to the Navy and Marine Personnel left in Cuba, William Schiff, chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter, announced today.

"Red Cross is working with Navy and Navy Relief Society to furnish services needed by mothers and children arriving later this week," Schiff continued. "Red Cross is providing free long-distance telephone service for those wishing to contact distant relatives and friends. Comfort kits will be distributed to women and toys to small children. Red Cross hostesses will staff buses from ship docks to processing areas to help care for children and assist expectant mothers."

Dems Set Stage For Big Windup In Pa. Campaign

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania Democrats rolled out the heavy artillery for a gigantic Halloween rally in Philadelphia, setting the stage for a whirlwind windup of the statewide election campaign.

The principal speeches were made by gubernatorial nominee Richardson Dilworth; Sen. Joseph S. Clark, candidate for re-election; outgoing Gov. David L. Lawrence and Rep. William J. Green, Philadelphia Democratic chairmen.

More than 5,000 democrats paid $100 each to jam into convention hall to hear the rallying calls and dine at tables decorated with pumpkins.

Dilworth, in a daylong tour of his home city, earlier accused his Republican opponent, Rep. William W. Scranton, of being a product of backroom politics.

"Since this campaign has started, he (Scranton) has held a number of secret meetings in various parts of the state...designed to assure those attending not to pay any attention to what he is saying publicly to fool the voters."

Dilworth said of a public opinion poll published by a Philadelphia newspaper which indicated Scranton leads Dilworth in Philadelphia and Allegheny County: "Applesauce."

C-H Earnings Up For 3-12 Periods, Dividend Gains

Increased earnings for the three-month and 12-month periods ended Sept. 30, 1962, were reported today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

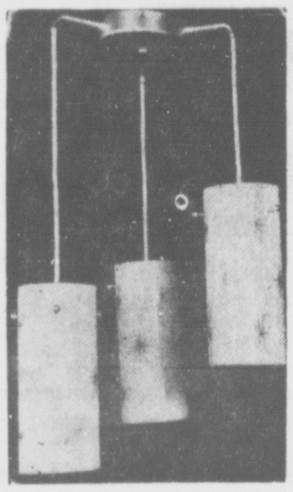

The company's net income was $1,386,685 for the third quarter of 1962 and $6,365,193 for the 12 months, as compared with corresponding totals of $1,327,131 and $5,858,472 as of Sept. 10, 1961.

On a per-share basis, the 1962 earnings are equivalent to 34 cents for the quarter and $1.60 for the 12 months on the 3,369,228 common shares outstanding, versus 1961 equivalents of 32 cents and $1.52 on the same number of shares.

In their joint quarterly report to Central Hudson's 18,300 common stockholders, Chairman of the Board Ernest R. Acker and President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. point out that the company's quarterly dividend rate has been increased from 26 cents to 27 cents per share, "based on the excellent results for the year to date and on prospective earnings."

See Poland Factor In Missile Stand

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland AP)—Apathy among the Soviet satellite regimes in Eastern Europe apparently was a factor in Premier Khrushchev's agreement to ship his missiles home from Cuba.

Many diplomats think Poland's Communist government for example, straddled the fence as much as it dared during last week's crisis.

There wasn't even a "hands off Cuba" demonstration outside the American Embassy in Warsaw such as occurred before the embassies in Moscow, London, Copenhagen, Tokyo and Prague.

U.S. diplomatic notes about the arms quarantine were fired back by the Kremlin. Similar notes got only polite oral rebuttals here.

Many a Pole privately abhorred the idea that the Soviet Union might fight over Cuba. "If there is war over Cuba, I have two requests of America," a Polish writer told this reporter. "First, don't use nuclear weapons. Second, win it."

Despite the sustained propaganda buildup, Castro and his bearded cohorts are not regarded as comrades in arms by many East Europeans.

About one-third of Poland's trade is with the West, and the country exchanges mail with perhaps 8 million people of Polish stock in America and Western Europe. These are ties local Communist leaders cannot ignore when they consider a showdown over such a remote place as Cuba.

Polish Communist party chief Wladislaw Gomulka is thought to have considerable influence with Khrushchev. Presumably he counseled caution on Cuba.

Six Are Indicted

Price Fixing Is Denied by Four Aluminum Firms

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four of six big aluminum conductor cable manufacturers indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of price fixing have vigorously denied the accusations.

The six firms, suppliers of 90 per cent of the aluminum conductor cable sold in the United States, were charged with conspiring to fix prices in violation of the antitrust laws between June 1958, and August 1960.

Denials came from the Aluminum Co. of America, Pittsburgh; Anaconda Wire and Cable Co., New York; Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Sales Inc., Oakland, Calif., and Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., New York.

Also indicted Wednesday were the General Cable Corp., Perth Amboy, N.J., and Reynolds Metals Co., Richmond, Va.

The indictment by an 18-member grand jury said that in 1959 sales of the cable wire by the defendant firms exceeded $70 million and substantial quantities were sold to municipal, state and federal governmental agencies and to public utilities throughout the United States.

Lawrence Litchfield, president of the Aluminum Co. of America, said: "We are aware of no wrongdoing on our part and expect to defend our position fully in court."

The aluminum industry, Litchfield said, has been so fiercely competitive it is hard to believe there has been any attempt to fix prices with competitors or any other unlawful practice.

The cable, made in whole or in part of electrical conductor grade aluminum, is used in the transmission or distribution of electricity.

The German airship Hindenburg burst into flames while over the U.S. Naval Air Station at Lakehurst, N. J., at the end of a voyage from Germany in 1937. Its hydrogen-filled gas bags caught fire and exploded, burning the dirigible and killing 35 persons.

No Secret Force On Wharton Side, He Tells Opponent

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton today scoffed at a report attributed to his Democratic-Liberal opponent Wednesday indicating that secret field men are campaigning in the area in Wharton's behalf.

"If any secret field men are working on my behalf, they are so secret that I am unaware of their existence," the congressman said.

It was reported in Washington, D. C., last week that Americans for Constitutional Action, a group advocating conservatism, announced it had assigned secret field men to aid 46 conservative candidates for Congress. Congressman Wharton was reportedly on the list of 46.

Morton E. Gilday of Poughkeepsie, Democratic-Liberal candidate for the seat held by Congressman Wharton, challenged the congressman to explain the use of secret field men and asked him to diavow support of any group which cannot or will not campaign openly.

Cuban Situation In Capsule Form

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

These are the major developments in the Cuban situation:

Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant returned from talks in Cuba saying he had been told all Soviet missiles would be dismantled by Friday and out of Cuba soon afterward.

But Thant was silent about his apparent failure to persuade Prime Minister Fidel Castro to agree to U.N. inspection to verify withdrawal of the missiles. He consulted with U.S. and Soviet officials about the next steps.

The White House announced the United States was resuming its arms blockade of Cuba at daybreak and that air surveillance will be renewed. Both had been suspended during Thant's two-day visit to Havana.

President Kennedy canceled a news conference scheduled for today and the White House said it would be rescheduled when the Cuban "situation is clarified."

Thant announced that Castro promised, at Thant's request, to return the body of Maj. Rudolf Anderson Jr., pilot of a U.S. reconnaissance plane missing since Saturday. The announcement indicated Anderson had been shot down by Cuban antiaircraft.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was due in New York today for a one-day stopover before flying on to Havana. Western observers believe he will attempt to nudge Castro into line with the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement.

Red China continued its vocal support of Castro in his defiance of plans for the missile withdrawal.

Lutheran Men Set Communion Supper on Sunday

The annual Lutheran Men's Communion supper which will be held on Sunday evening will feature an address by the Rev. Dr. Alfred L. Beck, president of the Synod of New York of the Lutheran Church in America.

Held this year at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets, the event will begin at 6:30 p. m. with supper followed by Communion in the church sanctuary, according to the host pastor, the Rev. John H. Frenssen. This follows the pattern set by Jesus on Holy Thursday when He instituted the Lord's Supper, the pastor said.

The evening's speaker, the Rev. Dr. Beck, was president of the former United Lutheran Synod of New York and New England of the ULCA. After the recent merger of four Lutheran bodies, Dr. Beck was chosen to be the first president of the newly-formed Synod of New York of the Lutheran Church in America.

Taking part in the Communion service will be the pastors of the participating congregations. The Rev. Mr. Frenssen will be celebrant, the Rev. Russell B. Greene of St. Paul Lutheran Church will be confessor, the Rev. Paul Mertzlufft of Redeemer Lutheran Church, New Paltz, will be the lector and the communion meditation will be given by the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise, of Redeemer Church, Kingston.

Tickets for the supper which will be served by the Ladies Aid Society of Trnity Church are available from the various congregational leaders.

Evolution Theory

The general idea of evolution was a familiar concept to the Greek philosophers before the Christian Era; modern explanation of evolution dates from 1859, when Charles Darwin published his theory.

Sold as Wives, Do Heavy Work

Uganda Has Movement To Make Women Free

By LYNN HEINZERLING

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Africa is still a man's world. All the shouting about freedom leaves most women grubbing for food, carrying water and firewood on their heads and being sold to their husbands like cattle.

But a genile revolution is under way in Uganda, the latest colony to become independent. A small group of women is leading a campaign to bring women into the new world of freedom.

British colonial officers, the churches and a few progressive Ugandans have made some progress in emancipating women in the cities. In the rural areas, where 90 per cent of the population live, tribal customs condemn women to a life of toil and bearing children.

Still Sell Daughters

Uganda fathers still extract a bride price for their daughters from prospective husbands. In some places this may amount only to a goat and a few small presents. In northern Uganda it may run to 10 or more head of cattle.

The bride, once paid for, becomes little more than a chattel. The husband's responsibility in the family runs to growing whatever cash crop he may choose, handling whatever money there is and sitting in the sun.

He may occasionally mash up green bananas, add water and sugar and wait for it to ferment into "African gin" or waragi. On ceremonial occasions he will dress up in leopard skins and monkey hides and get out his spear.

Raises Family Too

The bride is expected to take care of the sweet potatoes, beans, turnips and bananas outside the family's hut and to bring the water from whatever spring or stream is available. She must also raise the family and provide daughters wh will, in their turn, bring a fancy bride price. Sons are welcome too because they enlarge the clan.

The only women smashing these ancient tribal practices are those who get an education or marry more advanced African political leaders or businessmen.

From this group of women comes the move to improve the lot of rural women. One of the leaders is Mrs. Pumla Kissonkole, a South African from the Transkei African Reserve who graduated from Fort Hare University and married a visiting Uganda chief.

Want English Taught

The ability to speak English, official language of the new nation, has become a status symbol. The Uganda Council of Women has asked United Nations aid in teaching English.

The council also is pushing to get more women in government positions. With few women college graduates in Uganda, the number of qualified women is limited. Only two women work in government ministries.

For the rural women, the uplifting will be slow and painful. Most of them are illiterate as are their husbands. The husbands do not take kindly to wives working outside the vegetable patch and the hut.

Chopped walnuts and raisins are good added to gingerbread that is to be served for dessert with applesauce or lemon sauce.

Double Ring Ceremony at Presentation; Margaret Jordan and Donald Draminski

MR. AND MRS. DONALD J. DRAMINSKI

The Rev. James Kelley, CSsR, pastor of the Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen, officiated at a double ring ceremony before a nuptial Mass on October 27 at 11 a. m. for Miss Margaret Elizabeth Jordan and Donald Joseph Draminski. Mrs. Robert Corcoran was the organist and Miss Eileen Reis, the soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jordan of 316 Hasbrouck Avenue, Kingston. The bridegroom is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John Draminski of Chase, Mich.

White satin ribbon marked the family pews and the church was decorated with white mums and gladioli.

Mr. Jordan gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of Duchesse satin fashioned with a molded bodice, long tapered sleeves and a circlet neckline. The full skirt swept back into a street length circular train. A crown of orange blossoms secured the wide English illusion veil. She carried a missal with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Catherine Durkin of New York City was the maid of honor. Miss Carole Ann Jordan, sister of the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Otto of Kingston, were bridesmaids. All were dressed in cocktail length gowns of teal peau de soie styled with molded long bodices, mid-length sleeves and circlet necklines. They also wore matching feathered pillboxes with circular tulle veils and carried blue pompons with yellow roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Stanley Draminski of Lansing, Mich., was best man. Ushering were Dennis Jordan of Kingston, cousin of the bride, and Robert Burns of Kingston.

Approximately 200 guests were entertained at a reception given at The Capri in Port Ewen.

The bride was graduated from Academy of St. Ursula and Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing. She is now on the staff at the Benedictine. Her husband is an alumnus of Reed City High School, Reed City, Mich., and Michigan State University. He served three years with the U. S. Army and is now employed as an electrical engineer by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

When Mr. and Mrs. Draminski return from their trip to Bermuda, they will be at home at 98A Fairmont Avenue, this city.

Nursery School Plans Parent Nights; First on Nov. 7

The Fair Street Nursery School Board of Directors held its semi-annual meeting last evening at the school. Mrs. Frieda Dingee, president of the board, presided. On the agenda were plans for the three Parent Nights which will be held during the year for parents of children attending Fair Street Nursery School. The first Parent Night will be Wednesday evening, Nov. 7. The acquisition of some new equipment designed to fill certain particular needs of children in nursery school was discussed and approved.

It was noted that the school has openings for several more children. With the largest registration in its history, Fair Street Nursery School now holds four daily sessions, two in the morning and two in the afternoon for pre-school children from 3 to 5 years of age. It is the only local nursery school accredited with the New York State Department of Education and is in its 13th year of operation.

In attendance at the meeting besides Mrs. Dingee, president, were the Rev. Edwin Coon, vice president and pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, John Erickson, secretary, Mrs. Henry Brigham, treasurer, Mrs. Ben Emerick, director and Mrs. Lincoln Christensen of the staff of Fair Street Nursery School, Dr. Elbert McFadden, Mrs. Robert Rollin and Mrs. Frank Matthews, parent representatives, and Herbert Lown and John Walker, representatives of the Consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church.

Well Known Amateur Photographer Will Be Guest Speaker

Kingston Camera Club, in conjunction with its annual guest night, has been fortunate to obtain as guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. Irene M. Heffner of Albany. Mrs. Heffner, an avid photographer and a grandmother, will be present at the next meeting of the club on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Artcraft Gallery, 694 Broadway in Kingston.

Mrs. Heffner, who is 72, has devoted herself to photography since 1938. She is active in camera club work and is affiliated with the Albany Camera Club, the Pictorial Photographers of America, the Chicago Color Camera Club and the Photographic Society of America among others.

Many of Mrs. Heffner's pictures have been exhibited in international salons. She has won many prizes with her work including awards in the National Newspaper Snapshot contests for her photographs which have appeared in the Albany press. All of her darkroom work is done in her home. She prefers pictorial or nature studies for her subject matter.

What makes Mrs. Heffner's pictures outstanding is her power of observation. She has an uncanny ability to spot a scene, an article, or a situation where a picture exists. By seeing things that others overlook, Mrs. Heffner, using her inexpensive cameras, excites the admiration of not only her friends and Albany newspaper readers, but professional and amateur photographers throughout the world.

Anyone interested in photography is welcome to attend the meeting. Club members are especially urged to bring guests to what will surely be one of the most interesting and memorable meetings of the year.

Those who attended last year will remember Mrs. Heffner as an outstanding outspoken and unusual speaker. Mrs. Heffner will be accompanied by her husband Fred, who shares her avid interest in the hobby.

Mrs. Max M. Meth

Outstanding Zionist Will Be Guest at Hadassah Reception

Mrs. Max M. Meth, national fund-raising chairman for Youth Aliyah, will be guest speaker at the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah's annual Youth Aliyah reception.

The event is set for 8:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 12, at Temple Emanuel. All contributors to Youth Aliyah will be Hadassah's guests at the reception.

Mrs. Sidney Treinkman is Youth Aliyah chairman, with Mrs. William Buchbinder, co-chairman, and Mrs. Harry Feldman, campaign treasurer. Mrs. Morris Berman is hostess chairman for the reception.

Donations may be sent to Mrs. Feldman at 104 Wall Street, paid at the door November 12 or given to Hadassah workers in their one-day drive Wednesday, morning, November 7. Workers will meet at Mrs. Treinkman's home, 44 Northfield Street, for breakfast before going out on the drive.

Youth Aliyah is the international rescue and rehabilitation agency that has aided more than 100,000 youngsters from 72 countries since its formation in 1934. Originally organized to save Jewish children in Germany, its work has since encompassed North Africa, Latin America and Eastern Europe.

Mrs. Meth, chairman of Child's Day for Youth Aliyah and a past president of the New York City Chapter of Hadassah, is a native of Chicago, Ill., where her family was active in Zionist work. She studied at the American Conservatory of Music, where she was a voice major, and is married to Max Meth, noted Broadway musical director. Their son, Lionel, is a pianist.

In 1933 Mrs. Louis Lipsky and Mrs. Fanny Rongy, concerned with Hitler's activities, called together a group of young women to plan to get Jewish children from Germany into Palestine. Mrs. Meth was invited to this meeting and was elected president of the Immoth organization then founded. This group functioned until Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah, undertook to help start the world immigration movement, and Youth Aliyah became one of Hadassah's major projects. The Immoth group turned over its membership and funds to Hadassah.

Mrs. Meth became a member of the Brandeis group of Hadassah, and became first president of the Milton Steinberg group in 1951. She was then elected vice president of the New York Chapter and in 1957 was elected its president.

The speaker toured Israel in 1959 and was a delegate to the world Zionist congress in Jerusalem in 1960.

The local chapter's board will complete plans for the drive at its board meeting at 8:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 5, in the home of Mrs. Arthur London, 300 Pearl Street.

Hadassah ran its "New and Nearly New" sale October 22-26, with proceeds benefitting vocational education projects. Chairmen were the Mmes. N. P. Gross, Carl Bernstein and Arthur Landesman; aiding with pickups and working in the store were the Mmes. Joseph Avis, Richard Adin, Cople Barnovitz, Morris Berman, Louis Beckenstein, Frank Cohen, Maurice Crystal, Milton Dubin, Arthur Field, Leon Gray, Herbert Gertner, Sidney Halpern, Paul Johnson, Richard Kalish, Martin Katz, Louis Kornfeld, Arthur London, Julius Lipton, Sandra Neulinger, Jay Melton, David Sherry, Henry Singer, Sidney Treinkman, Murray Weiss, Charles Yallum, Robert Yallum and Jack Zweben.

Red Hook Girl Exchanges Vows With Penn. Man; Both Are Teachers in Netcong, N. J.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN EDWARD SISSICK
(Photo Workshop)

St. Christopher's Church, Red Hook, was the scene of the wedding for Miss Judith Louise Waryas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Waryas, 99 West Market Street, Red Hook, and John Edward Sissick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sissick, McAdoo, Pa. The wedding took place on Saturday, Oct. 27, with the Rev. Edward J. Dobransky officiating.

Organist was Mrs. James Horkan, Mrs. Edward Benya was the soloist. The church was decorated with white gladioli, pompons and large chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Italian silk styled with a fitted basque bodice, scoop neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bell skirt which was accented by a carriage back and chapel length train. The neck line and skirt were trimmed with three-dimensional appliques of Alencon lace and pearls. Her bouffant veil of English silk illusion, waist length, was gathered to a sailor cloche of silk taffeta trimmed with Alencon lace appliques and pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white pompons and stephanotis, centered with two white Georgianna orchids and pearl trim.

Mrs. Charles Daniele, Dover Plains, was matron of honor for her cousin. Attendants were Miss Carol Luty, Hyde Park, another cousin, Mrs. Paul Schaefer, Rhinebeck and Paula and Cynthia Osika, Hyde Park, also cousins of the bride, as flower girls. All wore ballerina gowns of royal blue French faille with fitted bodice, scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves and controlled skirts. Their headpieces were flat bows of matching faille with circular veils. They carried Nile green pompons with white Fuji mums.

Thomas Sissick of Metuchen, N. J., served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Paul Schaefer, Rhinebeck, and Stanley Waryas of Poughkeepsie, cousin of the bride.

A reception was given at the Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside on Nariticong Avenue, Lake Hopatcong, N. J.

A graduate of Red Hook Central School and Harcum Junior College in Pennsylvania, the bride also attended the State University College at Oneonta. She is employed as an elementary teacher in the Netcong, N. J., school district. Mrs. Sissick is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs Casmier Osika, Hyde Park; and Valentine Waryas in Red Hook and the late Mrs. Louise Waryas; and niece of Mayor and Mrs. Victor C. Waryas of Poughkeepsie.

The bridegroom, who is employed as a high school teacher in the Netcong School district, was graduated from McAdoo High School. He received a BA degree from St. Mary's College in Michigan and his masters from the University of Scranton in Pennsylvania.

Footnotes - - - And More Footnotes

Ever been told to "stay on your toes"? Gotten "cold feet"? Put your "foot in your mouth"? Or your "best foot forward"?

What's your "Achilles heel"? How often do you "foot the bill"? "Put your foot down"? Act "footloose and fancy free"?

You probably never realized how important feet are in phrase and fable. A nation of riders, we tend to pay little attention to our feet . . . unless they hurt. But ancient peoples revered feet highly . . . often felt feet had special power. And some of this superstition still lives on in parts of the world.

According to European folklore, a sure sign of beauty is a second toe longer than the "big toe."

The phrases, "to start the day on the right foot" . . . "to get off on the wrong foot" . . . "to put one's best foot forward" all date back to one basic superstition.

Ancients believed that the right side of the body was invulnerable (thanks to the gods), while the left, which housed the heart, was prone to disturbing fears and dangers. It was therefore considered advisable to start the day on the right foot, by putting on the right shoe first, and taking the first step of the day with the right leg.

The famous Greek philosopher Pythagoras warned, "When stretching forth your feet to have your sandals put on, first extend your right foot. But when about to step into a bath, let your left foot enter first." (The left side of the body symbolized all the baser functions.)

The Romans even went so far as to place a special guard at the entrance to important places. His "sole" duty was to make sure everyone entered right foot first!

It was around this time that the Romans adopted the practice of wearng "leg-bindings"—predecessors of stockings. The bindings were originally popular among Roman soldiers who wore them for protection during Winter campaigns in the north.

But it wasn't long before they discovered that these early stockings provided greater comfort in hot, as well as cold, weather. For another strange fact about those amazing feet of ours—they keep cooler when covered in hot weather, especially when covered with a porous material. And this fact should make the stocking industry ecstatic!

And while you're tramping through hills or running along sunny beaches this Summer, keep an eye out for footprint hunters. Certain Australian aborigines believe that they can lame an enemy by putting sharp stones in his footprints.

In Lithuania, if the dust of a footprint is buried in a graveyard, the owner of the print is expected to expire.

From a leading industry's Library of Footlore comes an indication that America has its own footprint superstitions. In parts of the Southern U. S., it's believed that the earth of a person's footprint is a potent love charm . . . when picked up and carried about in a little red flannel bag.

As a matter of fact, wherever summer travels take you, you're bound to find strange foot facts, if you look hard enough. You might see Indian Fakirs walking barefoot on hot nails in an act of self-mortification . . . or find an old Chinese peasant family still practicing foot-binding of young girls to insure their beauty.

Denmark is the birthplace of Hans Christian Andersen's beloved tale of the Red Shoes which compelled the wearer to dance . . . and merry old England gave us the story of Ella of the Cinders (better known to us as Cinderella) whose dainty foot helped her find her prince.

It was also in England that the measurement known as the "foot" was first established . . . as the length of the right foot of an ancient king. And in France, the practice of wearing high heels came into vogue during the reign of Louis XIV, who popularized the footwear . . . for men!

When you "foot the bill" (in any nation) you write your name at the bottom or "foot" of a check . . . and when you're footloose, you're merely unfettered—according to the 17th century origin of the phrase.

There's a lot more to the story of our amazing feet . . . but just a few points worth remembering: The man with cold feet never gets his foot in the door and once he puts his foot in his mouth, he always has difficulty putting his foot down. But as long as he's footloose, he'll never have one foot in the grave!

The skunk can utter a low scolding growl when not overly excited, but he usually is silent.

Vaticum Vatican

Some scholars say the name Vatican is derived from a vanished Etruscan town called Vaticum, while others suggest that Vatican Hill was where a soothsaying king of legendary Rome declared his "vaticinia," or message from the gods about 60 B.C.

Bride Tardy With Her Thanks

Q: My husband's cousin was married about five weeks ago and as the wedding took place in a distant city, we could not go but sent a wedding present (a sterling silver tray). We had no acknowledgement of the gift and inasmuch as it was quite expensive, I wanted to be sure she received it so I wrote to another relative, living in the same town as the bride, and asked her if she would find out whether or not it was received. I understand that the bride and her mother are highly insulted because I wrote this note and think me very ignorant. I am terribly upset over this and would like to know if I was wrong.

A: The bride and her mother are probably put out because you called this other relative's attention to the negligence of the bride in not writing her thank-you notes. It would have been more tactful to have written directly to the bride, explaining that you wanted to make sure that the tray, coming from your distant city, had not gone astray in transit.

Card With Wedding Present

Q: When handwriting a card to enclose with a wedding present to someone who is a stranger to us, how should we sign our names? You have said that Mr. and Mrs. should never be part of one's signature, but Mary and John Smith seems rather intimate to send to someone we don't know personally and who is younger than we are. What do you advise?

A: If you have no Mr. and Mrs. visiting cards write on a blank card, "With Mr. and Mrs. John Smith's best wishes.

Paying a Girl's Fare

Q: Quite often on my way to work in the morning I will meet a girl I know and we walk to the station together. I would like to know if I am expected to pay her carfare or would it be proper to let her pay her own?

A: As she is not your guest, you are not obliged to pay her fare and it will be quite proper to let her pay her own.

How and when to introduce people seems to puzzle many. The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Introductions" gives helpful information on this subject. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Freeman.

'Lost Generation'

The term "Lost Generation" refers to the men and women who came to maturity during World War I and, as a result of their experiences in the war and the social changes following it, became disillusioned and neurotic.

Disarmament Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — The Church Peace Mission, an interdenominational, pacifist-minded organization, has issued a statement signed by more than 500 clergymen and Christian laymen declaring that withdrawal of the United States from the arms race is "the only way to break the terrible circle of armament and counterarmament." If controlled multilateral disarmament efforts fail, the statement said, this country should move alone to disarm, with a halt to atomic tests as the first step.

Albany State Decisions New Paltz State Soccer Squad, 2-1

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Area football squads, namely Kingston and Saugerties, struck another blow to those highly touted clubs, from the Albany area, which boast of outstanding records but which have trouble each year winning around here.

Mont Pleasant is a power year in and year out in the supposedly tough Class A League. The Raiders and Linton have dominated the circuit for the past several seasons. In fact, it is very rare when Linton and Pleasant lost more than once or twice a season.

BEAT WHITE PLAINS

This season, Mont Pleasant ran right over White Plains, a team which later beat Kingston. This led many observers to believe (including yours truly) that the Raiders would be too strong for Kingston. So, what happened? The locals gave their best performance of the season and stopped the visitors, 13-6. Of course, beating Pleasant is no novelty. In 10 meetings between the clubs since Bill Burke has been coaching, Kingston has won five and tied a pair.

Albany Academy would just as soon forget there is a Saugerties High School. Three straight times the Academy eleven has put an unbeaten record on the line against the Sawyers. The upstaters are still seeking to win a game. This year's powerhouse had allowed only one touchdown in four winning efforts. For more than a half it looked as if the Sawyers would have their 20 game winning streak halted.

Then it happened. A touchdown in the third quarter and two more in the fourth period. Bango. Saugerties won, 20-7, and the Academy failed in another attempt at an undefeated season.

Those winning efforts by Kingston and Saugerties just goes to prove that football as played in this part of the state is still first class. Ask Mont Pleasant and Albany Academy.

DANGEROUS ASSIGNMENT

Sam Anzalone, a former staff reporter for this newspaper and now the public relations boss at Monticello Raceway, has been working part time as a sports writer for the Middletown Times-Herald Record. Sam was at Monroe-Woodbury last Saturday to cover an Orange County League game.

Early in the second half, Anzalone was along the sidelines taking photos of the game. Lo and behold. A tackle was made and the player bumped into Sam. Since he didn't have a uniform and football gear with him, the reporter-photographer was belted, but good. The result was a dislocated knee, which sent our boy Sam to the hospital. At last word, he's well on the way to recovery and for that we are quite pleased.

Sam Anzalone is what is known in the fourth estate as a 'good guy." There just aren't many of his breed around and we hope he's on the job again before too long. Incidentally, who said that sports writing was a tame occupation?

JUST RAMBLING AROUND

There's nothing official as yet, but we hear, from a reliable source that Poughkeepsie High has been making a feeler to the Dutchess County League about switching from the DUSO . . . Our All-DCSL teams will be printed in the Nov 13 issue. We can guarantee that Dick Gianotti of Saugerties and John Repsher of Arlington will be in the backfield . . . Those Saugerties fans who are predicting another unbeaten season for the high flying Sawyers might be in for a jolt. Beacon, the last game on the SHS slate, just came up with a big victory over Newburgh and observers in the Southern Dutchess city rate this the best Beacon squad ever . . . If there is a better end in the area than Paul Natale of Kingston, we have yet to find him . . . New Paltz Central, which has had its share of good football teams the past few seasons, is in the doldrums this time around. One of the reasons, in our opinion, is the fact there are too many sideline coaches. We counted more than a dozen of them in the game against Rondout Valley and each "coach" was telling the boys to do something different. Maybe Bill Russell could put them on the payroll but it would be better if they let Bill handle the team. He has Van Pine around as an assistant and two is company and more than two is a crowd.

Hawk Hopes for Post Season Bid Are Squashed

Hopes of getting a post season tournament were drowned in the soggy turf of Bleecker Stadium last night as the New Paltz Hawks lost a 2-1 soccer decision to the State University team of Albany. The game was played under miserable weather conditions and the field was a quagmire of mud.

Coach Al Miller's team broke the scoring ice in the second period when Richie Lotze took a pass from Joe Fasciolli and beat the Albany goalie. This was at 21:21, just 39 seconds before intermission.

Though the Hawks controlled most of the third period, it was the home side which knotted the count. Pete Ostina made the goal at the 11:04 mark.

Lotze was stopped on two different occasions as the Albany goalie did an outstanding job. Finally, the winners scored the tie breaking goal when Tom Hendrickson go the ball past Tom Clarke of New Paltz at the 6:15 mark of the fourth quarter.

It was the third loss in nine games for the Ulster County club and their first in the conference. They will close their season at Potsdam on Saturday.

HornungDoubtful Against Bears

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Paul Hornung, the Green Bay Packers' halfback of many duties, says he won't know until Saturday whether he'll be able to play in the next day's National Football League game with the Bears in Chicago.

Hornung, the NFL scoring leader the last three seasons, has been sidelined with a twisted right knee since Oct. 14.

He said his chances are 50-50 that he'll play against the Bears as the defending champion Packers seek their eighth victory in as many games.

"I really won't know until Saturday if I'll be able to play," Hornung said Wednesday night. "The knee might come round, it might not."

Hornung skipped Wednesday's drill after joining in the workouts the day before for the first time since the knee was hurt. He said he hoped to be back on the practice field today.

Hornung, currently ranking as third in league scoring, complains that he hasn't had a good game all season, and he included in that the campaign opener against the Minnesota Vikings when he scored 28 points.

Leg muscle troubles were a problem early in the season for Hornung, who joined the Packers' training camp late because of a nine-month tour of active duty with the Army at the time of the Berlin crisis.

Wiltwyck, Tackle Shop Capture 'Y' Contests

Wiltwyck School and Ray's Tackle Shop, who along with Tony's Pizzeria are fighting for top spot in the YMCA Autumn Basketball League, survived a pair of gruelling games last night before pulling out victories.

It took a 24 point fourth period for Wiltwyck to beat the Byrne Chevvies, 74-64. Ray's had to come from behind in the final seconds.

Clyde Griffin scored 29 points for Wiltwyck as the Ulster County school outscored its opponent, 24-13, in the fourth period. Walt Harder and Bruce Ruffner rimmed 13 each for Byrne.

Marty Kaye dunked four baskets and four free throws in the final quarter to put Ray's into the victory column. The defending champions trailed, 60-59, with 45 seconds to play but they made four straight points to finish on top.

Kaye led the winners with 24 points while Harry Pratt and Ronnie Scheffel contributed 10 each. Sol Goldin had 15 and Joe Dallao 10 for the Balotin cagers.

KHS Harriers Favored In Section Nine Meet

Kingston High School, which won the DUSO Cross Country title with ease, will have some tougher going Friday in the Section Nine meet at Bear Mountain. Nevertheless, the harriers of Coach G. Warren Kias are favored to annex another championship and continue their unbeaten season.

Dave (Chip) Ennis, a second place finisher to Newburgh's Lewis Dudley in the DUSO meet, is expected to lead the locals in their bid for a Section Nine championship. However, depth has been the key to the Kingston victories to date and Ennis has some good support from his teammates.

Syracuse Tops Hawks, 126-108

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baltimore made its point. Detroit didn't make enough.

Baltimore, bidding for a 1963 National Basketball Association franchise turned out a respectable 4,912 for the first of seven NBA shows at the Maryland city this year and saw the well-balanced Syracuse Nats trim St. Louis 126-108.

In Detroit, the Pistons remained the NBA's only winless team, losing their sixth consecutive game as the Boston Celtics breezed to a 115-100 decision.

The Nats and Celtics are tied for first place in the Eastern Division with 4-1 records. The Hawks' loss dropped them out of first place in the West. Idle San Francisco took over with a 4-1 mark to St. Louis' 5-2.

Proprietors Want Alleys Called Lanes

By JIM BECKER

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Consider alleys.

The bowling people are. They don't like the word.

The men who own them apparently feel that alleys are things you meet people you disagree with outside in.

The proprietors of those spanking, chrome-plated emporiums where bowling is conducted these days apparently feel that the term "bowling alley" conjures up images of the less-respectable, smoke-filled joints of the old days.

Hence a campaign to call them "bowling lanes."

The drive won't get much help from the new dictionary. Its first definition of "alley" is this one: "A garden or park walk or passage bordered by trees or bushes."

Anything wrong with that?

The second definition brings us closer to home: "A hardwood lane at the end of which pins are set up for bowling and down which a ball is bowled."

Now for lane. The dictionary calls it a "narrow passageway between fences or hedges that is not traveled as a high road."

Hardly an improvement.

The big book says that lanes are used in track, rowing and swimming, and adds, at the very bottom, "a bowling alley."

This gets us right back where we started.

Nevertheless, the bowling proprietors have taken to fining each other a quarter every time the word "alley" slips over a tongue.

They probably use the money to build more alleys, and call them lanes.

Meanwhile, what about gutters?

Gutters are filled with snipes, cigar butts and soused citizens, according to traditional belief. And bowling balls.

It is going to be prettyhard to sell a nicer word for gutter, especially to anyone who has recently thrown a bowling ball into one when he was aiming down the alley, er, lane.

NCAA Grounds Dayton Flyers, School Gets 2 Year Probation

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Dayton Flyers, perenially among the top basketball squads in the land, are out of tournament competition for the next two years because of excessive transportation arrangements made for a freshman hotshot in 1960.

The Flyers, 1962 National Invitation Tournament Champions, were grounded Wednesday when the National Collegiate Athletic Association Council, widing up a three-day fall meeting here, ordered a two-year probationary period for the university.

The action, the result of illegal transportation provided on four instances to Roger Brown of New York two years ago when he was a freshman, knocks Dayton out of the post-season NCAA championships as well as the NIT and all other holiday tournaments except one in 1963 to which the Flyers already were committed.

The exception will be the 1963 ECAC Holiday Festival a year from December in New York's Madison Square Garden. Prior to the probationary action, Dayton had accepted an advance invitation for the festival and had signed a formal contract to compete. Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the association would respect contracts already in force in keeping with the custom in such probationary cases.

Accept Penalty

In Dayton, the Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, university president, said "We accept the penalty, imposed by the NCAA committee on infractions and will continue to make every effort to abide by all the laws and by-laws of the NCAA."

Dayton's violations included transporting Brown from his home in Brooklyn to enroll at the university and during the 1960-61 season, when the 6-foot-5 former schoolboy ace was on the freshman team, paying his round trip transportation to New York three times for personal matters.

Father Roesch said Brown's trips were for appearances in traffic court in New York following an automobile accident in which he was involved and added: "The athletic department was motivated by what it judged to be a hardship case and felt that it was justified."

Brown still is in Dayton, playing for an AAU team. He dropped out of the university after his involvement in last year's college basketball scandals. According to New York District Attorney Frank Hogan, Brown admitted accepting $250 to act as a contact man for confessed gambler Joseph Hacken, now awaiting sentencing on several counts of bribery and conspiracy.

Colgate Team Seeks Big First Down Play

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Colgate's football team needs the "big play" to finish the season with a winning record, Coach Hal Labar says.

Labar told the Colgate Cliffhangers Club Wednesday that a "few first down plays in the fourth period" could have saved the Yale game last Saturday.

He described Colgate's next opponent, Lehigh, as a "dangerous" team, despite a 1-5 record.

Red Scientist Is Nobel Winner of '62 Physics Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1962 Nobel Prize for physics was awarded today to Soviet scientist Lev Davidovic Landau, whose probes into the mysteries of the universe helped pave the way for the launching of the Soviet sputniks.

The 1962 prize for chemistry went to two scientists at Cambridge, England, whose work unfolded secrets in the human blood. Dr. John Cowdery Kendrew and Dr. Max Ferdinand Perutz share the $49,656 prize for their studies of globular proteins.

Landau, 54, is one of the few Jews to attain a high place in Soviet science. He was awarded the $49,656 physics prize for "his pioneering theories for condensed matter, especially liquid helium."

Recovery Doubtful

Landau's research was halted Jan. 7 by an automobile accident. His car skidded on ice and crashed in Dubno, 75 miles from Moscow. He lapsed into a coma and was still unconscious in March when a Canadian neurosurgeon, Dr. Wilder Penfield, flew to Moscow to join French, Czech and Soviet specialists working to bring him around. Landau is reported making progress but there are doubts in Moscow he ever will recover fully.

Kendrew and Perutz have worked together at the newly started laboratory of molecular biology at Cambridge since the beginning of this year.

The structure determinations of large protein molecules for which the prize has now been awarded were made at the Cavendish laboratory at Cambridge with the aid of X ray diffraction, a photographic optical method which became available through the discoveries of German Nobel Prize-winner Max von Laue, and their British colleagues, the Braggs, 50 years ago.

No Peace Winner Yet

Kendrew, born in Oxford 45 years ago, came to Cambridge in 1947. Perutz, born in Vienna, Austria in 1914, left the university there in 1936 to settle in Cambridge, where he has engaged in research on hemoglobin since 1937.

The winners named today will receive their awards along with others previously named — literature and medicine—in Stockholm on Dec. 10. A committee of the Norwegian Parliament has yet to select a Nobel Peace Prize winner for this year.

Rankings

According to data compiled in the 1960 U.S. census, California ranked first in numerical increase of population and Florida ranked second, but Florida ranked first in rate of growth while California ranked fifth in that respect.

GOP Is Wary Of Job Picture

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's employment picture brightened last month. While the administration saw evidence the economy was improving, Republicans wondered out loud if there really was reason to cheer.

The key statistics released by the Labor Department on Wednesday are these:

Employment, rising seasonally, increased 225,000 from September to 68,893,000—a record for October;

The jobless total declined by 218,000, more than was expected, to 3,294,000—the lowest monthly unemployment figure since 1959; and

The seasonally adjusted idle rate dropped from the 5.8 per cent registered in August and September to 5.5 per cent. This meant 55 of 1,000 able and willing workers couldn't find jobs last month.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said in a statement that the job situation was substantially improved over that faced by President Kennedy when he took office in January 1961.

Wirtz acknowledged that there still are far too many unemployed and that much remains to be done if the economy is to operate at its full potential. He said, however, the nation's economy is moving ahead once again.

The Republican National Committee took issue with that view. In its own statement, the GOP said it is difficult to see how the administration "finds cause for rejoicing."

"With a current 5.5 per cent unemployment ratio," the committee said, "the number of jobless people is now exactly what it was in September 1960, when Mr. Kennedy as a candidate was telling the voters how bad things were and promising to bring unemployment down to 4 per cent."

Pope John XXIII, who becomes 81 on Nov. 25, says he is getting old and that he is reconciled to it.

At his weekly general audience in Vatican City, the ruler of the Roman Catholic Church said:

"The Pope tries to live in the faithful fulfillment of his duties. The Lord contributes by giving him good health. It is true that he is growing old and also true that wisdom is part of age. I think always of that other shore and submit to the will of the Lord, whether He decides to keep me here or call me to Him."

Sir Winston Churchill will attend his first social event since breaking his hip in a Monte Carlo hotel June 28. Churchill intends to show up at the annual banquet in London of the Other Club which was founded by him and the first Earl of Birkenhead in 1911. The club's main object is to enable members to wine, dine and talk without set speeches.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover suggests that parents and courts could be more effective in combatting juvenile delinquency.

In his monthly editorial in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, issued from Washington, Hoover said "protective coddling by some courts of 'tender-age' repeaters is an appeasement of justice."

Most difficulty with young offenders originates in the home, Hoover said.

Hearings Likely In Three States On Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads may be held in at least three states in December.

This was indicated by ICC Examiner Jerome K. Lyle who announced he had received requests for regional hearings from Boston, New York, Cleveland, Buffalo and Rochester, N.Y., and the states of Michigan and Ohio.

He suggested at Wednesday's hearing that it might be desirable to hold regional sessions to hear representatives of Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania in December and of New York City in January.

Lyle's proposals for out-of-town hearings came as lawyers continued their cross-examination of David C. Bevan, finance vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Bevan and other financial officers of the Pennsylvania and New York Central are scheduled to undergo questioning today by William Mahoney, counsel for the Railway Labor Executives Association which opposes the merger plan.

Suffers Knee Injury In Rt. 28-A Crash

Sheldon B. Cable Sr., 62, of Marbletown Road, Rt. 1, West Hurley, was treated at Kingston Hospital for an injury to his left knee Wednesday night and released. The car turned over on its left side.

The accident occured about 8:55 p. m. about a mile north of Route 28. The car was damaged about the left side, top and rear.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR SECURITY SEMINAR—Col. Theodore H. Erb, second from right, conferring with members of the Executive Committee of the National Security Seminar to be conducted in Kingston by the Industrial College of the Armed forces, Washington, D. C. The seminar is being sponsored by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and will take place May 6 through 17, next year. With Col. Erb are (l-r) Clifford A. Henze, seminar treasurer; Ronald G. Drowns, chairman of arrangements; John Ponsen, general chairman; and Harold E. Keator, who is in charge of civilian enrollment.

Check Is Made On Facilities for Security Seminar

Col. Theodore H. Erb, USAF, advance officer for the National Security Seminar to be held in Kingston, spent all day Monday here confering with members of the local Seminar Committee and inspecting facilities.

National security seminars have been conducted in selected cities throughout the United States by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces since 1948. During the 1962-63 scholastic year 14 seminars will be held, Kingston being the only one east of Dayton, O., and Mongomery, Ala.

The seminar here is sponsored by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and will be arranged by a special committee of which John Ponsen has been named general chairman by Chamber President Sam Pepper.

Approximately 200 reserve officers from the several branches of the armed forces will be assigned to active duty to attend the two-week sminar. Local people wil be invited to attend part or all of the sessions. The civilian attendance, coming from a wide area, is expected to reach a total of at least 400 at each session.

The general brochure announcing the seminars, copies of which will be available later, states in part, "This program affords citizens an opportunity to hear a discussion of public issues relating to national security, as well as a digest of pertinent and correlated information necessary to be a sober consideration of those issues." The various seminars are conducted by two teams of officers from the military component of the faculty of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

The general brochure also states, "The Industrial College has found its program of National Security Seminars an effective instrument for making the American citizen more deeply and actively aware of the problems of national security and his own responsibilities for coming to grips with them."

Mayor John J. Schwenk stopped in at the Governor Clinton Hotel to greet Col. Erb on Monday and Chamber President Sam Pepper joined the committee at the luncheon. Also attending were John Ponsen, the general chairman; William McCullen, assistant general chairman; Ronald G. Drowns, Ira Warren, Clifford A. Henze, Harold E. Keator and Albert Kurdt.

Three Persons Hurt In Paltz Area Crash

Three persons were injured at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday on Route 208 about three miles south of New Paltz when a car owned and driven by Richard Schmidt, 17, of Torrance, Calif., skidded as it proceeded north. The driver lost control and the car crashed into a tree, completely wrecking the vehicle.

Schmidt received injuries to his right shoulder and was treated by Dr. J. Wiersum of New Paltz. Two passengers in the car, Pedro Gonzales, 23, Bronx, received internal injuries and a broken right leg, and John Farmer, 18, Los Palos, Calif., received internal injuries, head injuries and laceration of the right arm. They were brought to Kingston Hospital by New Paltz ambulance. Trooper Harry Foster of the Highland station investigated.

Radioactive Waste Of Upstate Plant Within Safe Limit

ALBANY—Levels of radioactivity from waste discharged from the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, Niskayuna, Schenectady County, and its West Milton facility in Saratoga County, were well within safe public health limits during the first six months of 1962. This was announced today in the semi-annual report from the Schenectady office of the United States Atomic Energy Commission to the State Health Department.

The Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory and the West Milton facility are operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by the General Electric Co. for research, development and prototype operations of atomic reactor systems for naval nuclear propulsion power plants.

The New York State Health Department and the Mohawk River Advisory Committee receive monthly, semi-annual, and annual environmental radioactivity reports. The Mohawk River Advisory Committee, established by the Atomic Energy Commission, is composed of representatives from the State Health Department, and a sanitary engineering consultant from New York City.

Included in the reports are data on radioactivity in river water, air, soil and background radiation levels in the vicinity of the two facilities.

Peiping Ignored By Pravda Over Cuba Criticism

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet party today ignored Chinese Communist criticism of Premier Khrushchev's conciliatory strategy in the Cuban crisis.

Pravda, the party organ, in a report on Communist-bloc support for Soviet moves in the crisis, gave a bare one-sentence summary of Peiping's reaction: Meetings of solidarity with the Cuban people.

Although words of praise for Khrushchev's decision to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba have come in from most Communist capitals, the Chinese have conspicuously refrained from sending their compliments.

The scarcely concealed anger over Khrushchev's tactics displayed in comments from Peiping is believed to have deepened the ideological split between Moscow and Peiping.

The Soviets appeared to reply to the Chinese in typically roundabout Communist fashion today. Pravda published a long editorial attacking a recently purged Mongolian Communist party Politburo member, who is reliably reported to have been a key figure in a pro-Chinese faction in Ulan Bator.

The Mongolian Communist, D. Tumur-Ochir, was accused of a series of crimes including nihilism, nationalism, anti-Marxism and attempting to disrupt Mongolian-Soviet friendship.

The prominent play given the reprint of the editorial from the Mongolian Communist party organ was interpreted here as a thinly veiled slap at the dissenting Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice Admiral W. F. Raborn Jr., deputy chief of naval operations for development, says the Navy has a satellite navigation system that is almost operational.

Gov., Morgy Are Focusing Eyes on Votes in Gotham

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller and Robert M. Morgenthau, adversaries in Tuesday's gubernatorial election, continued today their battle for votes in the New York City area, hammering at the issues they had stressed since the campaign began.

The Republican governor emphasized steps he said his administration had taken to improve the state's rate of economic growth, reduce unemployment, encourage business and strengthen public education.

Trails Cross

Democrat Morgenthau struck again at the governor's refusal to promise to serve a full four-year term if re-elected and to agree to a face-to-face debate.

The campaign trails of the two candidates almost crossed Wednesday at a luncheon of Queens civic clubs, which both addressed.

Rockefeller had spoken and departed, however, before Morgenthau arrived.

Morgenthau renewed his assertion that Rockefeller considered the governor's office merely as a stepping stone to the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

"Most of the business in the state," the Democrat said, "is carried out in a private office of the Rockefeller family."

Rockefeller, at the luncheon, reviewed his administration's programs that he said aided the borough. He reported a 175 per cent increase in state arterial-highway contracts in Queens since he took office.

In a reference to the Cuban crisis, the governor said one of most significant developments was the way Americans united behind President Kennedy, despite political campaigns across the country.

Other Developments

In other political developments:

1. A financial statement filed in the Department of State by the Conservative Party showed that the party's candidate for the U.S. Senate, Kieran O'Doherty, has drawn a salary from the party since last spring. A party spokesman said its lawyers had checked into the situation and avised it was "perfectly proper."

2. Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits, seeking re-election, said in a speech on Long Island today there was a "clear-cut" need for a sizeable and immediate tax reduction for the lowest and highest income groups as an incentive to business and for consideration of "accelerated depreciation on new equipment and corporate tax rates for home and foreign business."

3. Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City charged Wednesday that, during the 1962 legislative session, he was offered passage of a tax bill for the city by the GOP-controlled Legislature in exchange for a letter of endorsement of the Rockefeller Administration. He said, "there was no letter and we got no bill."

Birth Data Okayed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona Supreme Court has approved distribution of birth control literature by the planned parenthood committee of Phoenix.

Its decision Wednesday also granted permission to the committee to operate birth control clinics.

The court, however, upheld the state's 1901 law prohibiting advertising of contraceptive devices.

Continue Probe Of Saugerties Gas Station Break

BCI and State Police at Kingston continued their probe today of the Tuesday morning break-in at Ted's Esso Station at Saugerties, Route 212 and Mt. Marion Road.

Trooper David Wachtel, who responded to the call, said three weapons were reported missing by the proprietor Ted Haines.

The firearms were described as follows, a 30-inch double-barreled shotgun, a .22 automatic rifle, and a .32 rimfire over-under pistol.

Entry was gained through a side window, troopers reported. The break-in occurred Monday night or early Tuesday.

Ted's service station was previously burglarized August 12 when the intruders took $29 from a cigarette vending machine and seven antique guns valued at $290 and six Stewart-Warner automatic gauges, valued at $30.

The oldest known crime came to light when the remnants of a child more than 600,000 years old were found in Tanganyika. The child's skull had been fractured by a blunt instrument.

The Adult Education Department of the Kingston School system is opening a new Driver Training class.

Very Much Alive

AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Actor Harry McNaughton, a veteran of stage, screen, radio and television, finds himself in the same position that Mark Twain once was-denying reports of his death.

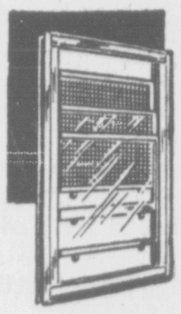

McNaughton, who says he is 60-ish, learned of his premature death by way of an Associated Press Hollywood column which referred to a radio show in which McNaughton once starred. The story said that McNaughton had since died.
